Democracy in Reich Doomed, Hitler States

Nazi Chief Sees Reign of "Discipline and National Conscience"

UNITY IS HIS AIM

Bitter Speeches Continue To Characterize Campaigns in Germany

Berlin — (P) — Democracy in Germany was given only a few more days of life today by Adolf Hitler, fiery National Socialist leader.

Winding up a dashing airplane campaign for next Sunday's election with a speech at Berlin stadium last night, Hitler brought thunderous cheers from 100,000 of his followers when he said:

"July 31 must remove the rule of democracy and of Marxism and its vassals from Germany and restore a regime of discipline, national conscience, honor and power."

"We aim," he continued, "to sweep the 30 political parties out of the country. We Germans must be a united people. We are on the eve of great historical decisions. The 13 years of decadence (the life of the republic) are nearing an end."

"We don't believe in the possibilities for international aid, but only in aid founded on our own strength."

The Tuesday night radio speech of General Kurt von Schleicher continued to kick up a furor throughout the country. The Bavarian Courier, powerful organ of the southern Volkspartei, said the general's reference to strengthening Germany's military power was hardly reconcilable with Chancellor von Papen's efforts for conciliation with France.

Von Schleicher's endorsement of Adolf Hitler's theory that the Reichswehr (army) alone is responsible for Germany's defense also brought down a crash of criticism.

The Munich Post, Socialist newspaper, observed that the day's speech came when von Schleicher would be "woefully disillusioned."

Hitler's campaign posters today set him up as "Germany's Oliver Cromwell" and referred to Cromwell's words, uttered as he closed the British parliament and established his dictatorship nearly 300 years ago, "take that battle!"

The National Socialist Premier, Roever of Oldenburg, where a Nazi state government is in control, went one better than Hitler, who has said that "heads shall roll" when the Nazis come into power in the nation.

In a speech at Kassel, referring to the opponents of the Nazis, Roever said:

"I guarantee that these Schweinhunde will be hanged and we'll leave their bodies swinging until the crowd has finished with them."

The Nazis scored a considerable victory yesterday when they succeeded in having the Prussian state ministry now under the dictatorial control of Chancellor von Papen, repeal the long-standing order which barred National Socialists from holding civil offices.

The success followed a couple of pot shots which the Nazis and Nationalists fired at the von Papen government, insisting the government was having a difficult time with its strongest right wing support on the eve of the elections.

His Tax Decree
Hans Kerrl, Hitler leader and president of the Russian diet, demanded that the chancellor's decree of June 8 taxing civil servants 2 1/2 to 5 per cent of their salaries be rescinded.

Dr. Alfred Hugenburg, Nationalist leader, called for the repeal of the emergency decree of June 12 taxing every German with a job.

In political circles these demands were looked upon as an attempt by the Hitlerites and the Nationalists to square themselves with their followers, many of whom have asked for an explanation why they have supported the von Papen government in financial measures rated just as drastic as any imposed by former Chancellor Bruening.

Chancellor von Papen's reply to the demands was guarded. He pointed out that far-reaching financial reorganization would take place after the elections and he said the administrative apparatus would be simplified.

Three deaths and a number of injuries were recorded in political clashes last night.

PROTEST FROM PARIS
Paris — (P) — Premier Herriot filed a protest today with the German ambassador against the recent radio address in which General Kurt von Schleicher, German minister of the interior, threatened to strengthen Germany's military power unless other nations scaled down their arms.

The premier called it tactless and inopportune, particularly since Germany signed the agreements at Lausanne and adhered to the Anglo-French consultative pact.

Later Mr. Herriot told the press his conversation yesterday with United States Ambassador Edge convinced him the American people appreciate the importance of the results achieved at Lausanne.

OUT FOR ASSEMBLY
Milwaukee — (P) — Mrs. Flora R. Ziem, an insurance agent, has announced her candidacy for the assembly. She will run on the Republican ticket in the First district.

DIES OF INJURIES
Baraboo — (P) — David Sansum, 83, died yesterday of injuries suffered when he was struck Friday by the automobile of Roy Judson, Baraboo.

Indianapolis — (P) — Engaging in a long afternoon session after Gov. Harry G. Leslie in a special message had warned the general assembly to limit its acts to tax relief measures the senate late yesterday passed a bill requiring a $42,000,000 cut in local budgets for 1933 and 1934.

Board's Deal With Brazil Is Assailed at Hearing

St. Louis — (P) — The federal farm board's deal with Brazil in which it traded wheat for coffee, was assailed by a coffee merchant today when the congressional committee investigating government activity in business, opened a two day session here.

In a prepared statement, presented to the committee, F. E. Norwine, president of the Norwine Coffee company, criticized the farm board's trade of 25,000,000 bushels of wheat for 32,000,000 pounds of Brazilian coffee, which, he said, made the farm board the largest importer of coffee in the United States.

"The stunning, blundering farm board is perhaps the most outstanding failure in history," Norwine said. "American wheat, which cost

Hearing in Rates Reduction Case Saturday Before Judge Geiger

MAY ASK FOR DELAY

Bill of Complaint Attacks Legality of Commission's Order

Madison — (P) — The Wisconsin Telephone company filed suit today before Judge F. A. Geiger in U. S. district court for an interlocutory injunction to restrain the State Public Service commission from putting into effect the 2 1/2 per cent reduction in local telephone rates which is ordered on June 30.

Members of the commission were served with copies of a petition for a temporary restraining order requiring them to appear before Judge Geiger Saturday and show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

While the reduction was to have become effective on Aug. 5, following the denial of the company's plea for rehearing before the commission several days ago, the injunction suit may postpone the cut for an undetermined period.

It is probable that the commission will ask Judge Geiger Saturday for an extension of time in which to show cause why the injunction should not be issued.

The bill of complaint filed in federal court contained allegations similar to those made by the company in asking the commission for a rehearing. It was charged that the rate reduction is unconstitutional, that it would confiscate the company's property by reducing its return on investment to less than 2 per cent, and that the credit of the company would be impaired.

Case Moves Swiftly
Developments in the telephone case, which involves a statewide investigation of the rates and practices of the company, have been moving swiftly in the last six weeks.

Formal hearings in the investigation were held several months ago for the presentation of testimony. Commission accountants have been examining the company's books and accounts for the last year.

On June 30 the commission issued its order declaring that the general inquiry, so far as it had advanced, warranted a temporary cut in local exchange rates amounting to 2 1/2 per cent, or a total of about $1,550,000 for subscribers in 102 cities and communities.

The commission asserted that after various adjustments, which it felt justified, had been made in the company's operating accounts, and

3 Bandits Loot Bank At Cuba City of $400

Cuba City, Wis. — Three robbers, apparently natives, held up the Cuba City State bank shortly before noon today, but ran out of the bank with only the counter cash, amounting to about $400. The bank opened Monday on the waiver plan.

Two of the men entered the bank while the third remained seated in an automobile at the curb. Employees and patrons were forced to lie down, while the pair grabbed the counter cash, ran out and jumped into the car, which witnesses said bore Iowa license plates No. 42962.

There was considerable confusion and some said the men had a machine gun in addition to two sawed off shotguns. There was no shooting.

Two sheriff Joe Greer of Grant county and deputies started in pursuit of the robbers, who headed to the south.

Roosevelt to Open His Campaign at Columbus

New York — (P) — Ohio and not New Jersey will see the opening of Governor Roosevelt's campaign for election as president.

His headquarters announced late yesterday that he would make his first major public appearance as a candidate when the Ohio Democratic state committee meets at Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 20. Seven days later he will speak at Seagrass, N. J., where a Democratic rally will be held.

Farm Selling Holiday Plans Being Advocated

Mitchell, S. D. — (P) — Formation of a group to organize farmers in South Dakota under the Farmers selling holiday plan was completed here last night as a part of the national organization which is expected to include 11 states.

Milo Reno, former president of the Iowa Farmers union and temporary chairman of the organization sponsoring the program, declared a call for refusing to sell farm products at less than cost of production.

This cost of production varies in the various states, he said. In Iowa it costs $1.33 per bushel to produce wheat, the speaker said, adding that the costs of production of all other farm products were much higher than their present market prices.

Child, Stung by Fifty Bees, Expected to Live

Joliet, Ill. — (P) — Lois Whitlock, 19-month-old farm girl who was stung by 50 bees, will live. The child, told toward a hive, enraged the bees, and was rescued by her sister, Ruth, 15, and Doris 12, who disregarded the insects and escaped without a sting.

Troops Ordered Out in Bonus Army's Clash With Police at Washington; 2 Vets Wounded

Shooting Breaks Out After Earlier Clash At Capital

POLICE QUELL RIOT

Bricks and Bottles Hurlled as Cops Try to Evict Vets

Washington — (P) — An unidentified veteran was fatally wounded here this afternoon in a clash between bonus seekers and the police.

A bullet through the heart killed him, when police opened fire upon the veterans who were advancing toward them. A group of his comrades took the man to a hospital in a patrol wagon accompanied by two policemen. He was dead when he reached there.

Also, Everett Carlson, 40, a bonus marcher from Ohio, is in a serious condition at casualty hospital with a bullet wound in the back and lower abdomen. Doctors said his recovery was doubtful.

Washington — (P) — Troops were ordered out today because of rioting between police and the bonus army, in which at least two of the veterans were seriously wounded.

From Fort Myer, squadrons of cavalry rushed from Virginia into the city and headed for the White House.

Down near the capitol meanwhile, police strove to keep order among the veterans who were in an ugly mood after having been fired upon by the officers.

Brigadier General Miles had orders to clear the area between Third and Sixth-sts and Pennsylvania-ave and Missouri-ave, a wide area, "using such force as might be necessary."

The troop of cavalry and five tanks were prepared to move on the area occupied by the bonus seekers.

Washington — (P) — Shooting broke out today between police and veterans encamped on Pennsylvania-ave two blocks from the capitol.

Veterans surged about a large and partially dismantled brick structure which they were occupying when suddenly a fight broke out with an officer attempting to disperse them.

A half dozen shots were fired and one veteran was seized and carried to a patrol wagon.

Two veterans were shot, one in the neck and one in the side.

This clash, accompanied by brick and bottle throwing, was quelled by large numbers of police who rushed to the scene following an earlier riot in which four policemen and as many veterans were injured. One police private was reported in dangerous condition at Emergency hospital.

The clashes were caused by orders for the police to evict the veterans from the lots near the capitol where the public building program has been held up by the bonus seekers.

The firing was started by a policeman standing at the top of a flight of stairs. At conference earlier between Pelham D. Glassford, police commissioner, and Walter W. Waters, commander of the bonus army, the police chief had said he feared an outbreak of shooting unless the veterans would comply with the orders. He said he had seen some pistols waved, but did not state whether these were by police or the bonus army adherents.

Crowd Starts Rush
When the firing took place, the crowd at the bottom of the stairs had begun to rush upward. A night started at the top the private policeman drew his revolver held up his hand for them to stop but they did not and he opened fire, shooting twice.

The moment the first shot was fired the crowd on the steps fell backward and those in the street scattered rapidly.

Glassford was on the first floor of the building looking over the scene.

Someone in the crowd of several hundred below yelled "get them out!"

A while before the gun, Glassford, who had the eviction order called off for a while, had told a gathering of the veterans "I suppose you know one policeman is dying."

This apparently had little effect on his bedraggled band of listeners, as they stood behind police lines—some scowling, some laughing. As word of the seriously injured policeman's condition spread, among his comrades, it was clear, evident that it put them in a fighting mood.

Force Vets Back
Glassford had been moving on the principle of keeping the ground gained today, in which a number of veterans had been forced from one building and a line strung up for a cleared area to some extent around. He said he knew of no plans to call troops but he understood that troops were ready in the vicinity to troop toward the scene if need be.

A crowd of veterans soon afterwards formed on the sidewalk in front of the building. In a threatening mood these sought to rush the

Reds Sought in Conspiracy to Destroy Banks

Bankers and Officials Blame Communist Party for Attacks

Chicago—(P)—Authors of Communist propaganda found in a Pontiac, Mich., hotel were sought today by the secret service and detectives everywhere as the directors of a nationwide campaign against the confidence of bank depositors.

Chicago bankers, government officials and Michigan police unhesitatingly blamed the Communist party for a systematic attack on the integrity of financial institutions in many large cities, particularly the runs which threatened every bank in Chicago last month. It was said by C. L. Smith, prosecuting attorney at Pontiac, to have been backed by Soviet Russia.

William Z. Foster, Communist candidate for president, denied his organization had sponsored a warring campaign against the First National bank of Pontiac or that a man known as George Rowland, in whose room sedition letters were found, was a member of the party.

"Rowland" was believed today to be really George E. Powers, once candidate for president of Queens borough in New York city and with a record for criminal syndicalism in Michigan since last August. He escaped a police trap in his raided hotel room and became the object of a national dragnet.

A new drastic sedition law, providing 20 years imprisonment and directed against "anyone who advocates reformation of the government by violence or any other unlawful means" was eyed as the handiest weapon should any radicals be caught and connected with the Pontiac literature.

For the letters were signed "yours for the revolution," and some discussed "bringing about the unrest which will lead to the revolution."

Chicago's June bank runs closed more than 40 institutions, including two in the loop, and caused the city's soundest financial citadels to store upwards of $100,000,000 in cash on hand in order to meet demands of depositors.

The situation here, no longer acute, appeared definitely linked with references in the Pontiac letters sent from Chicago, advising "Rowland" that there was "much progress here" and "considerable room for you in the loop."

Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank and former head of the American Bankers association, blamed the "radicals." He said he believed the "plot to be nationwide," and that he had reports from many cities that a similar system was used in frightening depositors by anonymous telephone messages.

Rowland's letters told of a plan, discussed but abandoned, of starting simultaneous runs in many key cities.

Tried to Start "Runs"

Other Chicago bankers told how radicals opened 300 to 400 bank accounts and then withdrew them simultaneously, spreading news of the "run."

City Youngsters Enjoy Outing at Vacation Colony

119 Children at Catholic Summer Camp in Heart Of Oneida Reservation

Ten miles west of Green Bay, in the heart of the Oneida Indian reservation, a group of city boys and girls are finding health and happiness in the open air. These are summer camps at the Guardian Angels Boarding school, which in vacation time becomes a vacation colony.

This year 119 children attend the Oneida colony, coming from Chicago, Springfield, Waukegan and Oak Park, Ill., Racine and Milwaukee.

Farm gardens and buildings supply fresh vegetables, butter, milk, meats and other substantial food for the table. The stream nearby affords an excellent "swimming hole" from which shouts of youthful swimmers and the splash of water are heard daily. Special periods are held every day for both boys and girls in swimming instruction.

Treasure hunts were the principal diversion of the youngsters during the past week. In the area of wooded hills last Thursday, the children were arranged in groups of different ages for the hunts. Friday of each week is Field Day, during which races, contests and other athletic events are held.

A ball game last Sunday with the Oneida County club team resulted in an 18 to 3 victory for the vacation colony nine. The trip to the ball park was made from camp in hay racks. William Lademan carried a four hit game and John Ford, the leading hitter in the game, held a 600 average.

Indian lore becomes a reality at the evening campfires which stress story telling and campfire songs. The camp is owned by the Catholic diocese of Green Bay and is operated under the direction of Rev. E. J. Le Mieux. A staff of counsellors has charge of vacation activities. The boys' work is directed by the following officers: Kenneth Radick, Green Bay, Lambert Scanton, Copperstown, Abner LaQue, Bear Creek, and Arnold Seidel, Marshfield. The Sisters in charge of the houses supervise the girls' activities. Miss Katherine Kelley, Green Bay, is the girls' swimming director.

Slayer Asked Girl To Provide Alibi

Self-Declared Fiancee of Youth is Held at Material Witness

San Jose, Calif.—(P)—An attractive young woman today charged that George Douglas Templeton, Jr., 20, self-described "model boy," begged her to shield him from the consequences of a knife assault which sent his aunt to her grave and his uncle to a hospital seriously wounded.

The woman, who said her name was Claire Burnette, although she was booked by police as Claire Chapman, 28, declared Templeton sought her aid as an alibi witness after he fatally stabbed his aunt, Mrs. Lillian Babcock, Manila society matron, and wounded his uncle, William Rider Babcock, wealthy Philippine exporter.

She also declared she was secretly engaged to the youth, a former University of California student. He had sought to have her accompany him to Los Altos where the assault took place early Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Walter Babcock, a sister of Mrs. Babcock. Miss Burnette further asserted.

She was arrested in Oakland, Calif. as a material witness and brought here last night. The prisoner said she is a Vassar college graduate of three years ago and her father, whose name she refused to give, is a New York banker.

The parents of the youth, Major George Douglas Templeton, retired army officer of Berkeley, and his wife, insured their son had always been a "good boy."

In a purported confession, the youth declared:

"My father had been cheated of a considerable sum of money by Mr. Babcock and I thought that with my killing him and his wife, insurance and property would go to my father."

The youth's father and Babcock were previously associated in the importing business in Manila. Babcock and his wife came to the United States to attend the Olympic games.

Kaukauna, Seymour and Black Creek districts already have organized.

NO KIDNAPERS CAN GET NEAR HER

Little Gian Gespi is even less free to come and go as she pleases than are most three-year-old girls whose parents are careful of their safety. For wherever her nurse takes her, a posse of armed bodyguards goes along. That's because Gian's father, a multi-millionaire Italian shipping magnate, is taking no chances on his pretty little daughter being kidnapped. Many wealthy families in Europe have taken similar precautions to guard their children since the Lindbergh kidnapping case horrified the world.

Bancroft Charges Phil Stirs Poor Against Wealthy

Denies Group of Rich Evading Tax Payments To Badger State

(By the Associated Press)

Levi Bancroft, conservative Republican candidate for attorney general, addressing citizens meeting to form a taxpayer's league in Plymouth last night, charged that Gov. Philip F. LaFollette is conducting a "campaign of untruths" which excites the poor against the rich. He said the governor has frequently told audiences that certain rich men pay little or no taxes, when as a matter of fact the men mentioned pay large taxes through corporations.

"If his charges were true," Bancroft said, "it would be better for the governor to turn his information over to the attorney general and have these men placed in jail."

Walter J. Kohler, candidate for governor, sat in the audience. There was prolonged applause when Bancroft mentioned Kohler's name.

Harry Dahl, speaking at Monroe, said that never in history have the LaFollettes advanced a suggestion that state government should curtail its activities to reduce government costs.

"With fertile political imagination the LaFollettes invariably have suggested the creation of some new commission, bureau or board with its inevitable horde of attaches as a remedy for some nebulous danger," Dahl said. "That is the answer to the 890 per cent increase in taxes during the past 20 years."

Gentleman in New London

In New London, Senator Bernhard Gettelman, conservative candidate for secretary of state, charged that relief of unemployment by reducing the hours of daily work was defeated by LaFollette legislators at the last session.

"Two years ago, the governor promised much for labor," Gettelman said. "This year, in his self-deceiving speech, he repeats to the working man the pledges he already has broken."

Paul H. Neversman, director of organization for the Conservative Republican State committee, in a speech at Oshkosh observed that 30 years of Progressive government in Wisconsin have produced nothing but tax delinquencies on 25 per cent of the state's acreage. Speaking in Fond du Lac, Neversman questioned the propriety of existing state office holders in the gubernatorial campaign. State office holders drew up to $7,000 a year, he said, being set up as a "factory" in a school of politics conducted by the governor. Neversman said he referred to a meeting at Madison July 16 when, he asserted, office holders taught LaFollette workers "how to answer embarrassing questions."

Governor Gives Wisconsin Plan For Conservation

LaFollette Outlines Program Along Five Separate Lines

Butternut, Wis.—(P)—The state conservation program is being developed along five separate lines which envision northern Wisconsin using her land and water resources wisely for development of her agriculture, industry and business.

Gov. Philip F. LaFollette said in a campaign speech here today in this northern community.

The governor described the program as follows:

"(1)—It has been decided to develop intensively for forestry those areas best suited for forest and best located with reference to the location of wood-using industries needing future supplies of raw material in Wisconsin. Location is also considered with reference to the protection of the headwaters of streams and the prevention of erosion.

"(2)—The development of public forests through the purchase of other acquisition of lands by the state is being co-ordinated with the development of the national forests in Wisconsin by the United States Forest service and with the establishment by counties (with the approval of the state conservation commission) of county forests partially financed by state aid.

"(3)—In addition to determining areas to be intensively treated in coordination and cooperation with the federal government, the local governments and private industry, this administration has pressed forward an aggressive fire protection policy for the vast areas of land both publicly and privately owned that must have fire protection if there are to be forests in the future. This protection policy has taken the form of securing additional equipment for the fire-fighters, and to secure the location of fires that may occur, and the re-organization of the administration of fire-fighting by de-centralizing authority to local districts. In each of these districts a representative of the conservation department is held responsible for maintaining an efficient fire-fighting service.

"(4)—Additional nursery facilities to meet the demands of the new forest policy involving planting on both public and private lands have been secured.

"(5)—Under the forest crop law provision has been made for a more careful development of permanent forestry operations on private lands through the regulatory powers placed upon the conservation department. The areas entered under the forest crop law have approximately doubled. This administration has faced its responsibility in this matter, and has developed a program calling for scientific forestry on the lands entered under the law and therefore exempt in part from taxation. In return for the financial grants made by the state to the local governments on the basis of these lands entered under the forest crop law, the state is insuring that these lands shall be made to contribute to the future wealth of the state by the growing of a permanent timber crop. It is only such a policy as this that is just and fair to every section of the state."

Egg Prices Rise As Chickens Take Annual Vacations

With hens on their annual vacations, egg prices are increasing, according to Appleton dealers. At the present time grocers are paying producers from 14 to 15 cents per dozen, and consumers are buying them at prices ranging from 16 to 18 cents a dozen. Two weeks ago wholesale prices were 12 and 13 cents per dozen, and eggs were retailing at 15 and 16 cents.

During the latter part of July and during most of August hens "lay" down on the job and produce fewer eggs, dealers claim. The slump was noticeable in June, but because of the large supply on hand, prices remained stable, and were quoted at record low levels.

As the season advances, and the supply diminishes, the old law of supply and demand will be in effect, and prices will move upward, dealers predict.

Suggests Need For Cut in Cost Of Medical Care

New York Health Leader Says Methods of Practice Must Change

New York—(P)—Dr. A. J. Ronny believes it is time to cut the cost of medical care, and he suggests the family doctor do something about it.

Dr. Ronny, chairman of the Greater New York committee on health examination, expresses his view in the current "Health Examiner," which his committee publishes in cooperation with the New York Academy of Medicine. The academy ranks as one of the "blue ribbon" medical groups of the country.

"The methods of medical practice which obtained during an era of prosperity can no longer continue," Dr. Ronny says. "The lavish expenditures, which prevailed in the treatment of the sick, will no more be possible.

"The family doctor, to a large degree, is responsible for the tremendous and very often unnecessary hospitalization of patients throughout the country. Many a patient, who could just as easily be cared for at home is sent to the hospital. This generally proves costly to the patient, and very often he is unable to meet his obligation to the physician.

"During a prosperous period it was inevitable that specialization, as we now know it, should grow to disproportionate prevalence. The function of the family doctor became so reduced that he practically became a referring agent for specialists."

The family doctor, the article continues, has been "reminiscent of preventive medicine. The last first-aid kit he carried was his own health examinations."

Dr. Ronny advocates the family doctor going into preventive medicine now, acting as a guide for health examinations. He criticizes the "average doctor" for lack of resourcefulness.

"The family doctor," he concludes, "must call a halt on all unnecessary and superfluous special-ty expenditures; instead, he should try to broaden his sphere of medical practice. This will help to reduce the cost of medical care."

UNCLE SAM'S NEW TAXES WHERE THEY HIT YOU —AND HOW!

BY ROBERT TALLEY (Copyright, 1932 NEA Service, Inc.)

Going to buy a new automobile? Get ready to fork over 3 per cent of the price to aid Uncle Sam in raising an additional $32,000,000 needed to balance his budget.

Going to buy a new truck? The tax on that will be 2 per cent, estimated to yield $3,000,000.

New new parts and accessories to put your old hack in condition, instead of buying a new one? The tax on these will be 2 per cent, estimated to yield $7,000,000.

And do you need new tires and tubes? The government tax on these will be 24 cents a pound on the tires, plus 4 cents a pound on the tubes. These items are expected to yield another $33,000,000.

Air for your car—up to the present, at least—is still tax free.

The tax on a $1,000 automobile is $30, others in proportion. Since this is a manufacturer's tax, it does not apply to second-hand cars.

Roughly, the new tax on tires figures about 11 per cent of the retail sale price, the tax on tubes about 15 per cent. For instance, take a standard make six-ply tire of size 5.25x21, which fits numerous cars. The new tax adds $1.15 to the price of this casing, making it cost $11.40 instead of $10.25. On tubes of the same size, the tax has hiked the price from $1.95 to $2.25, or an increase of 30 cents. Thus, a motorist who buys four new tires and four new tubes pays Uncle Sam about $3.80 additional.

This tax is paid by the tire manufacturer. In some cases, dealers absorb it. Other dealers pass it on to the consumer.

The tire tax runs from the cradle to the grave—it applies to every form of rubber-tired vehicle from baby carriages to motor hearses. Even bicycles, invalids' wheel chairs and children's rubber-tired toys are not exempt.

The tax on parts and accessories covers "any article, either useful or ornamental, to be attached to the car." It includes spark plugs, storage batteries, leaf springs, coils, timers, tire chains, radiator ornaments, etc.

The tax on motorcycles is the same as on autos. There is no tax on tractors.

Endorse State Products Week

Retail Division to Ask Chamber Board to Observe Program Here

Endorsing Wisconsin Products Week to be observed in the state Sept. 25 to Oct. 1, the retail division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce in session Wednesday morning in the chamber offices decided to ask the organization's board of directors to adopt plans for observance of Products Week in this city. Many cities throughout the state have already made plans to advertise products of Wisconsin manufacturing plants and farms by displaying them in windows of various stores.

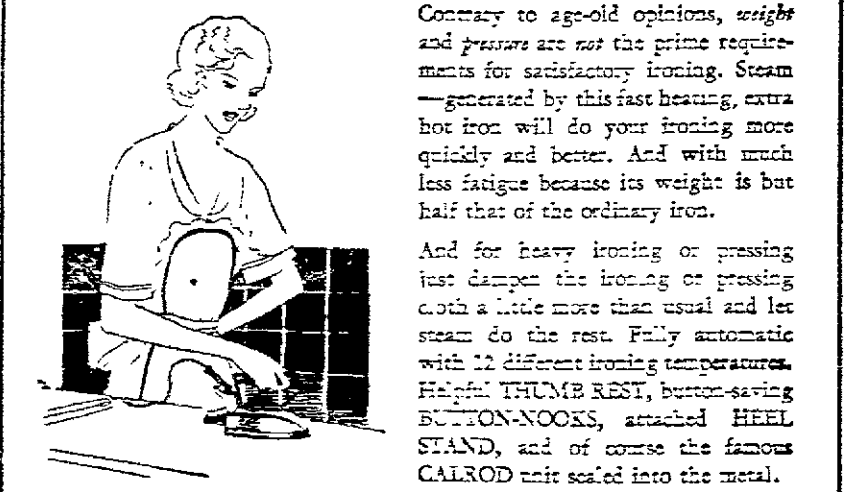

Opposed to schemes of outside firms, the Elks club has decided to put up its own decorations for the annual state convention here next month. A. J. Geniesse informed the division Mr. Geniesse said the club is warning other groups in the city contemplating conventions against the practices of solicitors from firms which specialize in street decorations.

Plans for the annual fall Dollar Day sale also were discussed.

IRON with STEAM! —rather than sheer weight

Contrary to age-old opinions, weight and pressure are not the prime requirements for satisfactory ironing. Steam—generated by this fast heating, extra hot iron—will do your ironing more quickly and better. And with much less fatigue because its weight is but half that of the ordinary iron.

And for heavy ironing or pressing just dampen the ironing or pressing cloth a little more than usual and let steam do the rest. Fully automatic with 12 different ironing temperatures. Hinged THUMB REST, button-saving BUTTON-HOOKS, attached HEEL STAND, and of course the famous CALROD unit sealed into the metal.

$340,000 Paid By Risk Firms In Appleton

Find This City Is Ninth Among Others in Wisconsin

Life insurance companies paid Appleton policyholders and beneficiaries a total of $340,000 in 1931, according to the special "Life Payments Localized" number issued by the National Underwriter, weekly insurance newspaper. Only eight other cities in the state led Appleton in the total amount of payments.

These were: Milwaukee with $16,000,000; Green Bay, $975,000; Madison, $970,000; Racine, $810,500; Kenosha, $561,000; Oshkosh, $480,000; Sheboygan, $357,000; and Janesville, $350,000. Other Badger cities and the amounts paid were: LaCrosse, $225,000; Fond du Lac, $174,000; Manitowish, $165,000; Stevens Point, $118,000; Wisconsin Rapids, $90,000; Shawano, $84,000; Clintonville, $85,000; DePere, $55,000; Freedom, $31,000; Hilbert, $42,000; Neenah, $40,000; New London, $11,400; New Holstein, $18,000; Sherwood, $10,000.

$340,000 in State

Life insurance companies paid Wisconsin policyholders and beneficiaries $340,000 in 1931 according to reports. Wisconsin ranked twelfth in life insurance payments, while it is fourteenth in population among states. If the payments had been divided equally among all people living in Wisconsin in 1931 each would have received $18.42.

The largest individual life insurance death payment paid in Wisconsin in 1931 was on the life of a person whose name was not given who lived in Milwaukee for $1,097,000. Other large payments were: Philip A. Koehring, Milwaukee, $1,055,500; Max Thiermann, Milwaukee, $895,000; Franklin Schilling, Green Bay, $80,000; John H. Elie, Merrill, $267,000; Herbert M. Halversen, Milwaukee, $55,000; Fred E. Dehne, Hilbert, $41,000; Ward E. Black, Green Bay, $39,000; John Klewin, Oshkosh, $39,000; Edw. Callaway, Milwaukee, $34,000; Albert Sam Larson, Shawano, $31,000.

Life insurance policyholders and beneficiaries in the United States and Canada received a grand total of $3,549,949,338 in life insurance payments and loans in 1931, according to the "National Underwriter." Of this huge amount, death claims, matured endowments, annuities and additional accidental death benefits totaled $1,316,337,731. Payments on premium savings and cash surrender values totaled $1,589,515,345, making a total of $2,905,853,076. This is an increase of 10 per cent over the 1930 total of $2,642,000,000, or an increase of 66 per cent in five years. Policyholders received $649,996,282 additional in policy loans in 1931, bringing the total of payments and loans up over the three and a half billion mark.

Life insurance serves all classes of people and an analysis shows it is not the large death payments which account for the huge annual total. Death claims amounting to $30,000 or more totaled 437 and accounted for only $46,453,909 of the nearly $3,000,000,000 total, or slightly more than 15 per cent. There were eight claims for over $1,000,000, totaling $24,000,000 in 1931, bringing the total of payments and loans up over the three and a half billion mark.

In 1930 there was 714 death payments of $30,000 or more, compared to 437 last year, showing that small payments accounted for an even larger proportion of the total in 1931.

Increase 24 Per Cent

Double indemnity and disability payments on life insurance policies have increased sharply in the last few years. In 1931, $66,272,299 in disability payments were made, an increase of 24 per cent over 1930, and 94 per cent over 1929. In 1930, the payments totaled $53,396,934, making an increase of $12,736,000 in 1931.

Double indemnity payments totaled $27,018,033 in 1931, showing an increase of 7 per cent over the 1930 total of $25,240,561. Payments on double indemnity in 1931 were more than twice as much as in 1928, when they totaled $12,160,763.

The largest individual claim in 1931 was on the life of Lawrence R. Ach of Cincinnati, who carried $1,816,500 in life insurance. The next three large claims were paid on the lives of publishers—E. A. Simmons, Brooklyn, head of the Simmons-Brooklyn Publishing Company, business paper publishers, who left $1,300,000; while Walter A. Strong of Chicago, publisher of the Chicago "Daily News," and Knowlton L. Ames, Sr., Chicago publisher, left $1,000,000 each in life insurance. Philip A. Koehring of Milwaukee, Frank M. Reed of Kansas City, Mo., Henry C. Kahl, Cincinnati, and Lester F. Mininger of Perryburg, O., were the other million dollar policyholders who died in 1931.

New York Leads

New York led all the states in total amount of life insurance payments in 1931 with $517,000,000, a per capita payment of $40.90. Pennsylvania came second with $276,000,000, a per capita payment of $28.65. Illinois was third with $202,000,000, followed by Ohio with $158,000,000 and New Jersey with $120,000,000.

New York's per capita payment of $40.90 was the highest of all the states, followed by Delaware with $39.80, the District of Columbia with $36.30 and Oregon with $35. Oklahoma had the lowest per capita life insurance payment with $8.30, with South Dakota a close contender with $8.67.

One million dollars or more were paid in life insurance claims in 141 cities in the United States and Canada last year, compared to 136 cities in 1930 and 124 in 1929. Of these 22 totaled over $100,000, compared to 18 in 1930 and 15 in 1929, which

SPARED NEWS OF SON'S DEATH

While the theater world mourned the death of Florenz Ziegfeld, famed Polka producer, at Los Angeles, Calif., the tragic news was kept from his mother, Mrs. Rosa Ziegfeld, 84, who is near death in her Chicago home. She is shown here in her latest photo, made by her nurse a few months ago. In the framed picture beside her are her son and his daughter, Patricia, now 15.

Executive Committee Of Legion Will Meet

The state convention of the American legion will be the chief subject of discussion at the meeting of Oney Johnston post of the American legion executive committee at 7:15 Friday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The veterans will make plans for instructing delegates on various projects and discussions to come on the convention floor.

A report of the July celebration will be given, a report of the county council meeting tonight at Hortonville and routine business will be transacted.

Despite the fact it has more than 3,000,000 acres of woodland, only about 6 per cent of the lumber used by Great Britain is home grown.

Clearly demonstrates the tendency toward increased payments.

New York City was again the leader with $154,500,000, $15,000,000 less than in 1930 and $4,000,000 less than in 1929. Chicago was second with $88,235,600, a decrease of $7,000,000 from 1930 and $3,000,000 from 1929. Philadelphia came third with $53,271,400, a decrease of $5,000,000, while in 1930 it made a gain of $12,500,000.

Claims on Women

Four large life insurance claims were paid on the lives of women who died in 1931. Eleanor F. Mininger, Perryburg, O., carried $1,005,000 insurance, the largest amount paid on the life of a woman in a number of years. She was the wife of a wealthy Toledo manufacturer who is said to be uninsurable and most of her insurance was short term endowment, an investment type of policy. Grovia A. Watson of Scooba, Miss., left $134,000 insurance and Helen K. Schuster, Cincinnati, and Belvia J. Dobbins of Rutherfordton, N. C., each had $50,000.

The financial standing of the legal reserve life insurance companies, as of Dec. 31, 1931, is gratifying considering the current conditions of other investments and financial institutions. Last year $19,817,494,437 of new business was written by life insurance companies and $3,992,366,918 in premiums was collected.

A gain of over a billion was made in insurance in force and new legal reserve companies have $14,595,723,723 total business in force, representing $55,896,000,000 ordinary, $10,500,000,000 group and $18,100,000,000 industrial.

The admitted assets of the life insurance companies totaled $21,370,800,000 in 1931, showing a gain of over $1,300,000,000 for the year. Unassigned funds totaled $718,183,000 at the end of 1931 plus a contingency surplus of $473,116,000.

Comparisons Made

Three billion dollars in life insurance payments is such a large sum it is difficult to conceive just how much money it is. The automobile business in its prime never did more than four billion dollars in annual volume while the railroads, which occupy such an important position in the business life of the country, have an annual revenue in good years of about six billion dollars, less than twice as much as the life insurance payments.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, upon which hopes of business improvement are based, involves only a little more than the total of life insurance disbursements to policyholders and beneficiaries in 1931.

Economists estimate that the probable income of American citizens in 1932 will be around $45,000,000,000, only 15 times as much as total life insurance payments. While the total income of the people has been dropping steadily, life insurance payments have been increasing steadily.

The value of all the securities listed on the New York stock exchange on June 1 was $18,141,000,000, over five billion less than the total admitted assets of the legal reserve life insurance companies operating in this country which have $21,370,000,000 invested in securities. Thus the stock market which has been greatly responsible for present business conditions, has been superseded by the great institution of life insurance, the bulwark of our country's finances.

Artillery Band Has Many Calls For Camp Concerts

Appleton Organization Also Entertains at State Home, Sparta

BY WILDER E. SCHMALZ
120th Field Artillery Band
Sparta—Out of the heat ridden acres of sand, tanks, heavy artillery and tent-tops comes this echo of the 120th field artillery band.

Now that the first four days of the encampment are over, the boys are pretty well accustomed to the heat and routine. We admit we don't work as hard as some of the outfits, but we put in longer hours. Our day starts at 5:30 when we play a march down the camp "main street" while the rest of the camp wakes up.

After breakfast our good Sergeant "Mike" gets us out for calisthenics. Mack Bennett could certainly get a good comedy just staring this outfit at calisthenics. Oh boy! Following this drill, we have a two hour band rehearsal during which we prepare music for our daily concerts.

For the last few days the opposing factions of single and married men have been practicing baseball, diligently for the annual field game. Since Sergeant Eddie Steenis has recently fallen prey to matrimony, the married men have a chance of at least scoring against the single men. In fact, Cpl. Anson Bauer, the coach, is relying on the married men to win the game. The married men who haven't won a game since grandpa came home from war.

Concerts at Camp

Sunday afternoon, Monday and Tuesday night we played concerts in camp and it seems the depression has sharpened the musical tastes of the soldiers, for we enjoyed unprecedented large audiences.

Tuesday afternoon we played a concert at the state public school in Sparta. The 600 kiddies there were tickled with the novelty numbers and sang the Artillery song like regulars. The fellows had a great time playing with the youngsters during intermission and enjoyed themselves until four o'clock. At that time we had to return to camp to play a dress parade and guard mount for the R. O. T. C. Following that, we played a concert for the officers' mess and the R. O. T. C. boys, a majority from Illinois, joined with the singing Illinois and Chicago university songmen.

With just a half hour for another concert at brigade headquarters. The fellows down here certainly get into the spirit of the concerts and especially the shooting army drummers do in the Artillery song. Thursday night calls for a concert in Sparta, and another in La Crosse is forthcoming. Altogether we are having a fine time. Meals are very good, days hot and nights cool. As long as the weatherman finds a good playground here, we can stand it, but we wish his ardor would cool a trifle.

Sunday, July 31, is governor's day here. We would welcome any of our home friends. It is about 160 miles, and the roads are good. Go to Onro and pick up United States highway 21 to Tomah. From there you will find two or three easy roads to Sparta and camp. If you could all see how the fellows mob the mailman, you would write plenty of letters.

The paper we get everyday are mighty welcome.

Hotel Teams Battle 19 Innings at Picnic Party

The sun had almost set beneath the horizon before a feud between rival softball teams from the Jones and Stark hotels was ended because of darkness last night.

For 19 long innings the battle had continued, with the score between the two teams tied at three-all. Art Jones and Adam Goose represented the battery for the Jones hotel, and Stark and Smith labored for the Stark hotel team.

The game was the feature of the annual picnic of the Federated Union of Soft Drink Parlor Operators at Stroebe's Island. Approximately 30 men participated in the annual stag event. A picnic lunch was served last evening.

Miss Esther Ressenman has returned from a two weeks' vacation at Lake Chicago, Iron River, Mich.

Injunction Asked By Phone Company

Temporary Restraining Order Issued in Federal District Court

In view of the economic crisis as it affects subscribers, it concluded that local rates could be reduced and still leave the company sufficient return for all charges and stock dividends and a "cushion" of $228,000 besides.

It therefore ordered the reduction to be in effect pending completion of the statewide investigation, but subject to modification at anytime if conditions change.

It is against this policy that the company has taken recourse to the federal court, the action having reached its peak before the Public Service commission with the denial of a rehearing last Tuesday.

Wants Inquiry

The company seeks to enjoin any kind of a rate cut until such time as the general investigation is finished.

It contended that in the hearing before the commission, so far, it has not had the opportunity to present evidence to refute the accounting claims of the commission's staff. It takes issue with the manner in which its operating account was adjusted to show more revenue from local exchange service than its policies now show.

It claims that the rates which it now receives are less than reasonable and that only accounting generalizations, not supported by facts were accepted by the commission in finding to the contrary.

The commission's rate cut order was an interlocutory one, that is an interim order to be in effect until the general investigation is finished, unless changed before that time.

The company likewise asks the court for an interlocutory injunction for the purpose of retaining the present rates until the inquiry is completed.

The suit was brought in the name of W. R. McGovern, president of the Wisconsin Telephone company and was filed by the Milwaukee law firm, Miller, Mack and Fairchild, its counsel.

Adjourn Inquest In Fatal Accident On County Trunk Z

View Scene of Crash in Which Mrs. Schafelke Was Fatally Injured

An inquest into the death of Mrs. Ben Schafelke, 30, 1907 N. Meade-st, scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at the city hall, was adjourned until Mr. Schafelke, the widower, has recovered sufficiently to attend a hearing. A coroner's jury was selected, and viewed the body of Mrs. Schafelke, the wrecked automobile, and the scene of the accident in which Mrs. Schafelke was fatally injured.

Members of the coroner's jury are E. L. Williams, Charles Rumpf, Louis Jens, Earl Lutz, Dennis Carroll, and Carl Hipp.

Mrs. Schafelke died at 11 o'clock Monday morning from injuries received about 2 o'clock Sunday morning when the car in which she was riding tipped over on a curve on County Trunk Z, about a half mile south of Kaukauna. She sustained a skull fracture, cuts and bruises.

Others in the car driven by Mr. Schafelke were Gus Van Denzen, 35, Tenth-st., Kaukauna; Mrs. Herman Reddin, 44, 914 Fourth-st., Neenah; and Miss Alice Schafelke, 24, 1907 N. Meade-st.

The Schafelkes, Van Denzen and Mrs. Reddin were returning from a party at the Van Denzen home when the accident occurred. The injured people were brought to St. Elizabeth hospital by passing motorists.

Mrs. Schafelke is in the hospital suffering from a fractured skull and bruises. Van Denzen suffered a fractured left arm, broken collar bone, several ribs fractured on right side, injury to spine, concussion of brain and lacerations.

Mrs. Reddin suffered a broken collar bone, several fractured ribs, cuts and bruises, and Miss Schafelke suffered cuts and bruises about the head and legs.

Only Two Days Left To File Affidavit For Time Extension

Only two days remain for Outagamie residents to file affidavits which will exempt them from payment of state income taxes until Oct. 15, without penalty or interest. Only about 30 or 40 tax affidavits have been filed so far, according to the county treasurer's office and it is not expected that many more will be filed. It is necessary that the affidavit be filled out, sworn to before a notary public, and then filed with the treasurer by Aug. 1. This procedure gives the person filing the affidavit an extra six weeks before his income tax will be due. If the affidavit is not filed, all those who have not paid their taxes by Aug. 1 will have to pay penalty and interest.

Railroad Would Abandon Michigan Branch Lines

Washington—The Pere Marquette Railway company today asked the Interstate Commerce commission to authorize it to abandon three of its Michigan branch lines, totalling approximately 17 miles.

The company would abandon the seven mile line from Mears Junction to Pentwater in Oceana-co, the five mile branch from Otter Lake in Leape-co to Fostoria in Tuscola-co, and the five mile branch from Port Austin to Gratiot Stone City in Huron county. The application said the lines were losing money.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Kate Warrington, 736 E. Sylvan-ave, Milwaukee, a former resident of Appleton, is confined to St. Mary hospital, Milwaukee, where she underwent an operation Monday for infection in her hand. She ran a scissors into the fleshy part of the thumb about 10 days ago, and infection developed. Mrs. Warrington makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Weber.

Mayor, City Clerk at Grocers Annual Picnic

Mayor John Goodland, Jr. and Carl Becker, city clerk, left this morning for Green Lake to attend the annual picnic of Fox and Wolf river valley wholesale and retail merchants at Sherwood Forest resort. Richard Groth, city health officer, and other city officials were planning to leave this noon to attend the picnic.

Barns Damaged, Trees Uprooted By Severe Wind

Corn Crop Is Laid Low, But Stands Probably Will Recover

Another severe windstorm swept through Appleton and the eastern section of Outagamie-co shortly after midnight Wednesday, uprooting many trees, breaking windows and damaging barns and sheds. The high wind, which was estimated to be traveling at 50 miles an hour, was accompanied by a rainfall of 15 inches.

Although the storm caused considerable damage to corn crops throughout this section of the county, Gus Sell, county agent, said this morning that the stands probably would recover, at least partially. The wind flattened the stands in many fields, especially throughout that portion of the territory south and east of Appleton. Mr. Sell said it would depend on the height of the corn as to the amount of recovery that could be expected.

Very little damage was done to grain fields, as most grain was cut before yesterday. On several farms, Mr. Sell said, the farmers were cutting grain late this morning, indicating that not much damage had resulted.

Trees Uprooted

Employees of the city street department were kept busy all day Tuesday and Wednesday morning clearing streets of trees and branches which were blown down during the storm. A large tree, uprooted in front of the Joseph Orstein residence on E. North-st, caused some damage to a sidewalk.

According to Theodore Albrecht, city street commissioner more than a dozen large trees were blown down during the storm. Most of these were towed to the city yard grounds on N. Walnut-st where they will be cut up by unemployed for fuel purposes.

There was little damage to wires or poles of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. and Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. according to officials. People in the vicinity of Schneiderville, north of Kaukauna, were without service early this morning when a large elm tree fell over telephone wires. The damage was repaired before 6 o'clock this morning. A few high tension lines of the power company were torn down in the city last night when trees were uprooted, but the damage was repaired during the night, officials said.

The storm was severe in the northern section of Calumet-co, according to reports. At Darby the roof on a shed was blown off at the Joseph Uitenbrock farm. A large number of trees were uprooted and blocked the High Cliff road.

A small shed was wrecked and numerous shade and fruit trees uprooted on the Leonard Petrie farm at Sherwood. Barn doors were blown off and windows were smashed in barns on the Louis Borneman farm at St. John. Several large trees also were torn down.

Federal Loan of 3 Million Made For Illinois Aid

Action Speeded by U. S. Body to Avert Distress Within State

Washington—Exactly a week after the new federal relief bill became law, Illinois today has a $3,000,000 addition to her bank account with which to feed and care for the needy.

A federal loan of that amount—at 3 per cent interest—was announced by the Reconstruction Finance corporation yesterday and made available immediately because it "appears that certain funds will be exhausted in certain localities of the state by Monday."

Finding quick advancement of the money necessary, the corporation chose not to wait until its directorate was completed. Atlee Pomerene, most recently selected director, had not reached the capital. One more member of the board must yet be named by President Hoover.

The federal agency, agreeing to lend the money out of the $300,000,000 fund in the new $2,122,000,000 relief act signed last Thursday, said it would expect all states to meet their own needs as far as possible "and call upon the corporation only as a last resort." Otherwise, it added the $300,000,000 would not be enough.

Other applications for state loans are pending, but it was believed the corporation would withhold action on most of them until the new directors take office.

The treasury said just about the time the Illinois loan was announced that it was having no trouble raising $650,000,000 through note issues. Offers to buy these notes totaled $5,560,000,000.

Of the $650,000,000 that will be sold about $412,000,000 will be used for government expenditures, chiefly by the reconstruction corporation, and the balance to refund maturing obligations.

Fair, Cool Weather To Continue Friday

Clear skies and cool weather will continue tonight and Friday, the weathermen says. Similar predictions have been forecast over most of the midwest for the next 24 hours, except in the upper and lower lake regions where showers and thunderstorms are due to prevail. Strong winds are still shifting in the west and northwest, a good indication that cool weather will continue. At 6 o'clock Thursday morning the mercury registered 60 degrees above zero, and at noon it registered 71 degrees above, the lowest noon temperature recorded here this month.

Condition of Accident Victims Still Serious

The conditions of Ben Schafelke, 1907 N. Meade-st, and Gus Van Denzen, Kaukauna, who were injured Sunday morning in an automobile accident on County Trunk Z, are still serious. Both are in St. Elizabeth hospital. Mr. Schafelke, who suffered a skull fracture, and internal injuries is in a more critical condition than Mr. Van Denzen.

The two women injured in the group, Miss Alice Schafelke, who received cuts and bruises about the head and legs, and Mrs. Herman Reddin, Neenah, who received a broken collar bone, several broken ribs and bruises, have been released from the hospital.

Water Plants Help Reduce Typhoid Fever

Methods of Removing Impurities Described by W. U. Gallaher

The sparkling water of the calm Fox river was turned into seething microscopic detail Tuesday noon as Kivwanians listened to W. U. Gallaher, superintendent of the city pumping station and filtration plant, discuss water purification at their weekly luncheon meeting at Conway hotel.

He talked on characteristics of good water supply and impurities in water which may be feasibly removed in order to present a clearer idea of purification of city water. The total number of bacteria in the Fox river is high because of the pollution in the water, Mr. Gallaher pointed out as he described the standards of water used in the United States and the comparative figures of the Appleton stream with the standards. According to the Treasury standards which test water for B. Coli content, or the microscopic organism found in human excrement, there should not be more than one B. Coli for each 100 cubic centimeters or one fourth pint of water. The Fox river shows 446 B. Coli bacteria for April, 1,086 for May and 1,831 for June in comparison to the Treasury standards.

If water is practically free from B. Coli, no disease germs are present in water, he said.

Turbidity Is Low

Turbidity, suspended matter in water, is rather low at Appleton, according to Mr. Gallaher. He believes that if the water were more turbid purification would be easier, since the soil picked up from the surface of the land would make the shallow waters of Lake Winnebago and Butte des Morts less penetrable to the sun's rays, thereby checking the growth of organism other than bacteria, which he terms plankton.

These are microscopic organisms, the most troublesome of which from the standpoint of water treatment, are protozoa, single celled animals and algae, small plants. They grow readily in Lake Winnebago and Lake Butte des Morts because of the shallow water which is detained so long there and the water, being fairly clean, permits the sun's rays to permeate through.

"The protozoa," Mr. Gallaher said, "subsist on bacteria and are good scavengers which grow in all temperatures, but best in warm water or water of higher temperatures."

The algae have the property of taking in, as land plants, carbon dioxide and expelling oxygen. This plant does the work of softening water by obtaining carbon dioxide free from the water and then taking it from the carbonate hardness."

The advantages of the plant, which are to destroy bacteria, furnish oxygen, serve as food for fish, and soften the water, however are offset by its disadvantages. This plant produces, Mr. Gallaher explained, essential oils and disagreeable odors of higher plants and animals which can be detected in the drinking water.

Ample Supply Needed

In discussing the growth of communities, Mr. Gallaher stated that an abundance of water supply, which Appleton has, is of primary importance.

The hardness of the water depends on the quantity of calcium magnesium salts in the water picked up in the stream flow from the strata, Mr. Gallaher explained as he said that hardness of water varies in different streams. Well water, according to him, is about twice as hard as Fox river water and the water of the Great Lakes which goes through a softening process is slightly softer. The two types of these salts are temporary, those which are in the Appleton water for the most part and which may be removed by boiling and the second kind which takes more expensive chemicals to eradicate them from the water. It would not be difficult to soften Fox river water, he said, because the largest part of the salts could be removed with lime.

"The varying temperature of Appleton water is one of its outstanding characteristics," Mr. Gallaher said as he explained that Appleton water is 2 or 3 degrees warmer in the morning than in the evening in the summer time. This he said was caused by the long detention of the water in Little Lake Butte des Morts and the shallow parts of the lake which gives the sun a chance to warm the water before it passes on.

The color in the water is caused by vegetation in the headwaters of the Wolf river and Lake Winnebago, which mixes with head waters from the drainage area in central Wisconsin. In the case of eastern and south eastern waters where there is sometimes more color, the color is removed more easily because the water is softer.

Briefly he described the methods of removing impurities from water in order of treatment at the city pumping station and filtration plant, taking the water through the process of aeration which brings the particles of water in contact with the air, the removal of color, turbidity and bacteria, filtration, chlorination and carbon action to remove taste of odors and tastes from chlorine.

Superintendent Gallaher pointed out that the installation of water treatment plants and the careful control of public water supplies has done much to reduce the average of typhoid fever cases in 78 representative American cities from 20.54 deaths per 100,000 persons to 1.60 deaths.

Tiny Gland Controls Size of Human Body

Madison—(AP)—If you are much below average in size blame it on the anterior lobe of the hypophysis. The lobe can also take the blame if you are much above average size.

The lobe is a ductless gland, only about the size of a thumb nail, and located at the base of the brain but it performs miracles in the structure of the human body.

An extensive study of the tiny ductless glands located in various parts of the body is being carried on by scientists at the University of Wisconsin. At present they are trying to determine the physiology and chemistry of the mysterious internal secretions of three ductless glands.

There are two ductless glands of the ovary, known as follicles and corpora lutea, and one in the anterior lobe. They hold secretions known as hormones. Over-secretion in the anterior lobe results in gigantism, while under-secretion is the cause of dwarfism.

Some secretions of the anterior lobe of the hypophysis have an effect in stimulating the development of reproductive glands and is known to influence the thyroid and adrenal glands, according to Prof. F. L. Hisaw who is in charge of the experiments. He pointed out that removal of an adrenal, thyroid, testis, ovary or anterior lobe glands renders the remaining glands less effective.

The restoration to use of ineffective glands by the injection of extracts of the missing glands has illustrated the importance of the experiments. The knowledge gained from the experiments, Prof. Hisaw said, aids in the proper diagnosis of certain animal and human diseases which are due to improper functioning of the glands and may be of use in correcting glandular deficiencies.

Regulation and control of the growth and health of the human body is the ultimate objective of the experiments.

"IF IT'S CITIES SERVICE... IT HAS TO BE GOOD"

Watching this point protects you against crank-case dilution

To chemists it is "end-point"—to you it means the difference between expensive and economical upkeep—because too high an end-point often leads to scored cylinder walls and pistons, lower mileage, excess carbon and overheating.

Chemists determine end-point by boiling gasoline at ever-increasing heat until it has all evaporated. A thermometer tells them at what temperature this happens.

If this temperature is low, in relation to the temperature generated in your engine, well and good. If it is too high, it means unburned gasoline left in the cylinders to seep down into the crank-case, diluting the oil to the danger point, and perhaps resulting in scored pistons and cylinder walls.

Cities Service chemists hold all gasoline from Cities Service refineries to an end-point that means complete combustion. They will not permit any other kind of gasoline to be sold under the Cities Service emblem. Thus they protect you against crank-case dilution—and against all the troubles that can come from incomplete combustion in the cylinder. For they never forget—"If it's Cities Service, it has to be good!"

The Crisis of Capitalism in America

The chance for a revolution in the United States is extremely remote. Americans are still wealthy, conservative; it is highly improbable that the troubles born of the depression will lead to any violent upheaval.

This is the conclusion of the German economist, M. J. Bonn, in his new book, "The Crisis of Capitalism in America."

Nevertheless, Herr Bonn thinks the capitalist structure in America may be in for a far-reaching change.

Americans, he points out, are not worshipping of the past. They are always willing to try something new, to experiment, to discard old institutions and try to devise something better.

Furthermore, he asserts, they are watching Communistic Russia with acute interest; and despite the profound cleavage between Russian and American theories, he believes that the American people—because of American standardizations mass production and so on—would actually be readier to embrace a modified Communism than the people of western Europe.

Herr Bonn has written a very acute and wise analysis of the present situation in the United States—one of the best I have seen all year. You will find it illuminating and provocative, very much worth reading.

The book is published by the John Day Co., and sells for $2.50.

Americans Try To Guard Own Trade Status

Great Britain Strives to Determine Preferences From Canada

BY FRANK I. WELLER
Ottawa, Ont., (P)—American interest, eyeing the British Imperial Economic conference closely in an effort to protect their trade advantages in Canada, began today the drafting of an unofficial statement of views.
The Americans, outsiders at the conference but keenly interested, planned to indicate the disadvantages that might result to Canadian-American trade if certain proposals before the conference were agreed to.
At the same time Great Britain sought diplomatically to force Canada's hand, and to learn what favors British industry may expect in return for preference tariffs favoring Canada.
From the outset Great Britain has made it clear that she cannot act upon dominion requests for export advantages until she knows what to expect in return.
Conference procedure provides that the daughter nations agree among themselves on trade bargains before Great Britain discusses separately with each what favors she must claim. The various delegations, representing the numerous units of the British empire, are inclined to delay actual bargaining until Canada, titular leader of the conference, indicates what she intends to offer in return for what she hopes to receive.
Canada, on the other hand, has appeared to be waiting to see what Great Britain intends to do.
Await Canadian Stand
The interest of the United States, Argentina and other non-empire nations centers around Canada's stand. There outside nations are especially concerned as to what Canada will offer Great Britain in connection with the "list of 8,000" industrial articles proposed by Premier Bennett of Canada as a bargaining basis.
The first plenary session of the committee on customs administration attracted special notice today from the United States. This was because under the Canadian tariff act of 1930 the powers given to the minister of national revenue include virtually arbitrary control over imports.
Under the act, if a Canadian manufacturer complains that a United States producer is underselling him, the minister of national revenue may instruct the American firm to raise his selling price above the Canadian manufacturer's or keep his product out of Canada.
Trade experts blame this law for the fact that a cigar selling in the United States for 14 cents retails here for 35 cents, compared with 25 cents for a comparable Canadian brand.
There was the possibility that the committee on customs administration might discuss duties outside as well as within the empire. If so, United States exporters would get some definite notion of what to look for in Canadian trade.
American Views
The semi-official United States view today was that the empire preferences might not be as costly as had been anticipated. It was pointed out that there is in Canada a long cultivated taste for American food products and long familiarity with manufactured articles from the United States. Also considered was the fact that empire competi-

Find Seeds Will Grow After 30 Years Burial

Here's weed news for the farmer—but it's bad.
Seeds of wild morning glory, buried for 30 years, sprouted almost at once after being unearthed and planted, the United States Department of Agriculture reports in a bulletin to Gus Sell, county agent. The seeds were buried as part of an experiment to discover how long seeds may lie in the soil and still grow, and to discover how long seeds must be buried to be killed.
The morning glory will be given further opportunity to prove its "staying power," as some seeds buried 30 years ago are still in the ground and will not be removed for 10 more years.
The saxophone is the most popular musical instrument in Germany.

tors would find it difficult to compete in price and quantity with United States concerns.
It would take nations seeking the American share of the British fruit markets eight to ten years, it was argued, to acquire sufficient apple orchards to supply the demand. Even then, there would be the question of whether the trade could be weaned from American preference.
The matter of empire parity was before today's session of the committee on currency. It was indicated that those parts of the empire most heavily in debt to gold standard creditors would take the lead in opposing any movement for inflation.
No monetary reform is expected by most delegates without an international agreement including non-empire nations.

Urge Demonstration Teams to Start Work For County Contest

Miss Harriet Thompson, county home demonstration agent, today urged 4-H clubs of the county to begin making plans for the Seymour and Hortonville and the Wisconsin state fairs. She especially urged that clubs planning to enter demonstration teams in the county contest begin their activities at once.
This year there is to be a county elimination contest about Aug. 10, Miss Thompson said, and three teams will be chosen. From these three teams the state department will pick the team that will go to Milwaukee to take part in the state contest in connection with the state fair. The teams also will compete at the Seymour and Hortonville fairs.
Miss Thompson urged that demonstration teams start their work now and that those wanting help from the county department should get in touch with her. Clubs and members planning to show exhibits at the fairs also are being urged by Miss Thompson to start making their plans now.

Brazilian Rebels Reported Beaten

Federals Claim Capture of 149 and Seizure of War Equipment

Rio de Janeiro—(AP)—The government's offensive against the Sao Paulo rebels in the Parahyba river valley was successfully today, it announced. The federal forces captured 149 prisoners and also took a great deal of war equipment, the announcement said.

Troops from the state of Minas Geraes under Col. Amaral invaded the northern region of Sao Paulo and drove the rebels out of the towns of Sao Joao and Dabovista, capturing a quantity of munitions. The government denied radio reports from Sao Paulo that federal airplanes had bombed a hospital. Only proclamations were dropped over the cities, it said.

General Waldomiro Loma's federal force of 8,600 men swung to the north 125 miles above Itarare, the government announced, and defeated a rebel force, capturing a battalion of 353.

The general radioed that the rebels attacked the federal vanguard 20 miles north of Faxina, in Sao Paulo state. Twenty of his troops were wounded in the battle, he said.

Menasha Youth Hit by Bullet

Condition of Owen Sensenbrenner Improved Today, Physicians Say

Menasha—The condition of Owen Sensenbrenner, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Sensenbrenner, 640 Broad-st., who was wounded below the left temple, presumably by a stray bullet at Fremont Wednesday afternoon, was considered fair this morning by attending physicians. He is confined to Theda Clark hospital.

Sensenbrenner, who is employed by the Bear River Co., Menasha, was taking a load of ice cream to Weyauwega and was leaving the village limits of Fremont on Highway 10 when the bullet struck him. The missile, which is believed to have been shot from a 22 rifle entered the left side of the youth's face about an inch below the temple and lodged in the right side of the face.

The youth stopped his truck and hailed a passing motorist who took him to Fremont where he was treated by a physician. He was then taken to the Neenah hospital. Sheriff Arthur Steenbock of Waukegan is investigating the shooting. According to residents living near the scene of the accident, a group of boys have been shooting crows with 22 rifles during the past few days.

In attempting to determine the position of the gunner, and the direction in which the bullet went, Sheriff Steenbock discovered several new holes in fence posts and rails in a nearby field on the left side of the highway on which Sensenbrenner was traveling. He was unable to find any discharged cartridges.

Stag Party Planned At Legion Clubhouse

Cook post No. 70, has not yet celebrated its purchase of the former Oshkosh Yacht club property and the stag will be the official program celebration. Officers of the state department of the legion will be in attendance.

$2,500 Appropriated To Complete School

Bammel and nine of the city aldermen was held Wednesday evening at the city offices to discuss the proposed finishing of the new Jefferson school building in the fifth ward. It was agreed to appropriate the necessary $2,500 required to complete the rooms specified in the plans. The work will be carried on at the same time as the other work.

Valley Grocers Off On Annual Outing

Menasha to Seek Next Convention Of State Legion

Citizens Take Steps to Invite Organization to City Next Year

Menasha—A meeting attended by approximately 50 representative citizens was held Wednesday evening at Elk hall to take initial steps toward inviting the 1933 state American Legion convention to Menasha. The meeting was in charge of the local post, with Earl Hill as chairman. It was unanimously decided to make arrangements to bring the matter before the proper officials. The state adjutant general will be communicated with in an effort to ascertain whether there will be competition from other cities for the convention. The city as a whole will cooperate with the Legion in placing the invitation before the 1932 convention to be held Aug. 15, 16 and 17 at LaCrosse.

The state Legion convention is generally attended by about 10,000 people and the citizens of Menasha feel sure they would be in a position to entertain the delegation. It was pointed out by some of the speakers that there would be hall room enough for the sectional meetings and the Brin theatre would be available for the main meetings during the mornings of the three days. Mayor N. G. Bammel, Edward Sonnenberg, Postmaster Clarence Loesch, Alderman T. E. McGillen and others talked for the project. Decorations and accommodations to be furnished by the city should be in successful in securing it. Other meetings will be called in the near future and arrangements will be made to send a delegation to the LaCrosse convention to make a bid for the 1933 event.

THEY'LL FLY, FLY AGAIN—ON GLOBE-GIRDLING ATTEMPT

"We'll tackle it again this year if it's not too late . . . certainly next summer" . . . Those were the optimistic words of Bennett Griffin (left) and his flying companion, James Mattern, when, as pictured here, the two American airmen arrived in Moscow with instruments salvaged from the wreckage of the plane in which they had attempted to set a new globe-girdling flight record. After they'd crossed the Atlantic to Berlin in record time, their ship was overturned and wrecked during a forced landing in a peat bog just across the Russian border from Poland. Griffin, as seen here, suffered a cut above the right eye.

Chapple Fails to Corner Governor

But Talks in Hall Vacated By Phil After Rhineland Speech

was a general movement toward the platform, and then the fireworks began.

Questions Not Asked
Chapple sprang to a chair shouting, "Mr. LaFollette, Mr. LaFollette" and waving a sheaf of papers. On them, he revealed later, were the 20 questions he first asked on the capitol steps in Madison.

The crowd divided, a portion going forward to participate in the hand shaking, and another group gathering about Chapple. Many shouted at the campaigning editor and came close enough to jostle him. Then Malcolm Jeffris, chairman of the Oneida-co Crusaders, a Chapple organization, mounted another chair and asked that Chapple be given an opportunity to speak. The crowd was of two kinds and the hall was a babble of confusion. Meanwhile the governor found his hat and he and his committee departed.

A policeman shouldered his way through the crowd, and told Chapple he had been sent by the management of the hall. The management wished to point out, said the policeman, that LaFollette supporters had paid the rent and felt they should not be disturbed.

Chapple agreed that the policeman had raised a pertinent point, and with the officer he strolled out into the rain.

Wisconsin "All Wet"

The crowd followed and in the next 20 minutes everyone got wet. It is not, someone shouted, a very intelligent occupation to stand in the rain. To which Chapple replied: "We in Wisconsin have been all wet ever since we allowed ourselves to become subject to the LaFollette racket."

Then he was observed conversing with a large, dripping man and in a moment he shouted: "Come on folks. I have hired the hall. Let's talk about Wisconsin."

A portion of the crowd followed him in and after some more confusion, listened to his assaults on the LaFollette administration. The administration's experiments in social and economic affairs lead to Communism and Socialism, he charged.

After the meeting, he drove away for a series of addresses which will culminate with a meeting in Green Bay tonight.

The governor devoted much of his address to problems of taxation. Tennessee collected $27,000 in a single month this year from her 15 toll bridges.

July Committee to Refund $42 to City

Neenah—A total of $42.44 will be turned back to the city by the Fourth of July committee as money left over from the $1,064.17 raised by appropriations, gifts, sales at the refreshment stand and concessions for the municipal observance of the day. The council appropriated $700 for the celebration, gifts totaled $225, sales from the stand totaled $392.17, and concessions totaled $40. A report of the Fourth of July activities and expense of the two-day celebration will be made at the next meeting of the council. It was the first municipal celebration the city had conducted for many years. The feature was the Wisconsin Boating association outdoor motor boat races and the fireworks display. It was estimated that more than 10,000 people were at Riverside park during the two days.

Politics to be Removed From Finance Board

Pomerene Appointment Indicates Hoover Effort For Non-Partisanship

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Former Senator Allee Pomerene of Ohio, prosecutor of Teapot Dome fame, Democrat, and a member of the banking and currency committee of the United States senate during his period of service in that body, has become the outstanding figure in the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

President Hoover named a Democrat to be chairman of the board of the corporation so that he might give the institution a completely non-partisan and non-political aspect. Representative Rainey, Democratic leader of the house, said the president couldn't dodge responsibility that way. But the truth is the new powers of the reconstruction corporation will not be fully exercised or the funds completely expended in the brief interval between now and the election, and the day of accounting of the corporation's record will come long after the election of a president this year.

Meanwhile Mr. Hoover has been trying to meet the criticism that the Reconstruction Finance corporation was being run to make political friendships for the Hoover administration. It has been argued that the corporation hitherto has been dominated by Republicans.

The president now says in effect that a man like Allee Pomerene, who has shown himself a capable prosecutor and an incorruptible public officer, takes the job as chairman of the board of the corporation and if the political opponents of the administration think Mr. Pomerene is going to play Republican politics with his new job they simply do not know the character and judicial temperament of the new appointee, or his loyalty to the party which honored him.

Smith's Name Mentioned
There has been talk of appointing former Governor Smith but it was feared that the former governor could not accept because of the political embarrassment it might develop. Mr. Smith would be stopped from campaigning at all if he went into federal office and it would have been charged that Mr. Hoover was playing politics with the appointing power. So the idea was dropped and an effort made to get a personnel which would assure Democratic control of the board without any reference to the existing presidential campaign.

Mr. Pomerene has been familiar with the work of the reconstruction corporation in the Ohio district and is well-liked in Washington because of his straightforward attitude toward public questions. He was one of the first to attempt to win Ohio on a wet platform since the eighteenth amendment was adopted and was always given a large Republican vote by business men who had confidence in his economic views.

At the last Democratic convention in Chicago, Mr. Pomerene was a member of the resolutions committee on behalf of Ohio and was generally supposed to be in favor of the nomination of Newton D. Baker. It is taken for granted here that he now is supporting the Roosevelt-Garner ticket, though when he comes to the reconstruction corporation he will probably give up the idea of making campaign speeches.

Politics Won't Enter
Mr. Pomerene is the type who can be depended upon to keep the Reconstruction Finance corporation out of politics. He has a congenial personality and will work easily with the other members of the corporation. Jesse H. Jones, former Democratic national treasurer, Harvey Cough of Arkansas and Wilson McCarthy of Utah are the other Democrats. While they are all men of Democratic affiliation they are not the kind who consider partisan politics in the administration of their public duties. The Republicans are Gardner Cowles, Sr., of Des Moines, a man whose breadth of experience in the middle west brings to the board a viewpoint different from that of the industrial and banking east, and Secretary Mills, who represents the latter view as well as the treasury. A Republican is to be named to fill one of the places made vacant by the retirement of Eugene Sawyer, governor of the Federal Reserve board, and Paul A. Bess, the commissioner of the farm loan board. The president has given the Democrats four posts out of the seven.

Pigs in Swanky Soviet Sty Charmed By Apollo's Lyre

Moscow—(P)—Drolleries made to order for the pen of a Mark Twain have been uncovered by the weekly magazine "Crocodile," a quasi-humorous publication, by a survey of animal breeding, particularly pigs, in the Soviet Union.

Its investigators found that managers of the Crimean pig trust spent $225,000 to build an artistic pig sty modeled after an ancient Greek temple on one of its livestock farms. On the roof was a statue of Apollo in a chariot.

"Of course," comments the journal, "we have no objection to Apollo playing the lyre on this pig breeding Parthenon, but we do protest against the expenditure by these esthetic gentlemen of 450,000 roubles for this kind of adornment."

The trust probably will be called to account for wasting funds.

Even soviet officials, with their contempt for anything smacking of royalty, were shocked to learn that a part of the magnificent palace that formerly was the governor-general's house in Leningrad, was being used as a pig sty. This was discovered, the magazine reports by an assistant to the president of the central cooperative trust, who, while strolling down the Nevsky

Prospect, was attracted by the strong odor issuing from the place. The responsible officials were reprimanded and ordered to set up their sty elsewhere.

A similar situation was found at Ufa, where the former governor's house also was being used, as the magazine put it, "to make the pigs comfortable."

Representatives of the Baku central workers' cooperative, hoping to increase its swine herds, purchased a lot of boars in a distant region. But when they loosed them on the farms they learned to their chagrin that they had bought a species of wild boars which killed and ate all the domestic animals.

The Beloretzky central cooperative, launching a campaign to breed rabbits on a large scale, imported 3,000 expensive animals and stood back to await the expected rapid reproduction.

When, instead of multiplying, the Depression Stimulates Education of Adults

Madison—(P)—The depression has provided a definite stimulus to adult education in Wisconsin, the University of Wisconsin extension division said today on the basis of registration figures for the year ending June 30.

The third year of the depression showed an increase of 1380 students and 3,959 registrations over the year ending June 30, 1930.

Enrollments of 24,304 in the past fiscal year were the largest in the history of the extension division.

The increase was largely in extension classes held in various cities outside of Milwaukee.

"In emergencies like the present," said Dean Chester Shell, "opportunities for self-improvement are needed perhaps more than at any other time, in order to keep minds occupied with constructive tasks and to keep individual and group morale from breaking down."

the peak prosperity year of 1928-29, the division said.

There was a definite trend toward studies that meet practical needs of the time. Among them are courses in investments, economics and sociology, accounting and English. The division attributed the trend to unemployment and consequent keener competition for positions.

Issue Legal Ruling on Referenda Question
Madison—(P)—A county board cannot submit to a referendum the question of abolishing the offices of county agricultural agent and county nurse unless it has passed upon the question itself, an attorney general's ruling held today. The opinion was rendered by Attorney General John W. Reynolds to James P. Cullen, district attorney at Prairie du Chien.

County bids issued under the old federal aid law to defray the cost of a share of the cost of road projects may be retired from the allotment of funds made by the new state highway law, the attorney general ruled in an opinion to District Attorney Charles F. Morris, Bayfield District Attorney Glen R. Douglas, of Spooner and the state highway commission.

At last! Science offers NATURE'S OWN REMEDY for the Quick Relief of Sickness and Suffering!

If you are suffering from rheumatism, arthritis, catarrh, asthma, or any of the thousand and one ailments that are sapping the strength and vitality of thousands, I want you to read about my revolutionary discovery that has brought relief to more than 100,000 other suffering men and women.

Don't Give Up Hope

I don't care what your trouble is. I don't care how deep seated or how long standing. I don't care how many other treatments you have tried or how many doctors you have consulted. I URGE YOU NOT TO GIVE UP HOPE UNTIL YOU HAVE HEARD MY STORY AND READ THE STARTLING FACTS PRESENTED ON THIS PAGE.

My Way Is NATURE'S Way

I want to tell you that no one can appreciate your trouble more than I. No one can offer more sincere and heartfelt sympathy for I suffered untold misery for 13 long years before I triumphed over a case that was judged incurable by the best doctors of America.

How did I—unaided—accomplish what medical science failed to do? How did I—alone—succeed after skilled practitioners gave up my case as hopeless? I will tell you. I went to Nature for relief! And when I discovered from this greatest of all healers was a revelation to me as it has since been a revelation to more than 100,000 other men and women throughout America.

John F. Class

I suffered for years—was judged a hopeless case by doctors. Now, at 73, I never know an hour's pain or suffering. My remedy is now available to you through the establishment of the John F. Class Health System. I urge you to attend the Formal Opening and learn all about the method that has brought health and happiness to thousands.

entirely different—different in conception, different in principle, different in application, AND DIFFERENT IN RESULTS. THE HEALTH VAPORS go directly to the blood stream by absorption through the pores of the skin. Blood is life. When the blood is healthy, disease cannot exist in the human body.

No Drugs or Medicines

You use no drugs with my method. You don't fill your stomach with strong medicines. Exercise and strict diet are not required. The treatment itself is comforting and restful. Even children and people in the most weakened condition find them wonderfully soothing and healing. Results are noted almost immediately. After a single treatment you feel refreshed and invigorated. As continued treatments act to remove the cause of your trouble, marked improvement in health almost invariably follows.

Tried and Proved

The Class Health System is not one of the many "fads" or "cure-alls" that all too often are nothing more or less than schemes to extract dollars from the pockets of the public. No one abhors such nefarious enterprises more than I do. I do not make extravagant claims. I simply say, "Here is what I offer. Here is what it has done for others. This is what I think

"I will do for you." Then I ask you and you alone to be the judge.

Established 16 Years Ago

My first establishment for the application of Nature's remedy for the healing of sickness was founded 16 years ago in Dayton, Ohio—the city in which I have lived for 73 years.

But as news of my discovery was carried away from Dayton by those whom I had directed to health, I was urged to expand my work—first to nearby cities and finally to other states.

Today, more than 250 establishments for the application of my Health System dot the United States and Canada. Thousands receive treatment daily and thousands of men and women who were sick, discouraged, and without hope are regaining health and renewed youth.

Now In YOUR City

If you are suffering from some discouraging ailment that seems incurable, you will be happy to learn that a John F. Class Health System is now in operation here. This is a permanent institution—an institution that will be a credit to your city, and a blessing to those who are brought relief by it of that vigorous health which is the crown of human life. The institution is the work of a man and a woman, and a group of directors—men and women, remarkable ability and sympathy and understanding in the greatest of all human endeavors—relieving the pain of sickness and suffering.

I urge you to attend the Formal Opening.

John F. Class

ARTHRITIS VICTIM THROWS CRUTCHES AWAY

"I suffered 8 years with arthritis, gradually growing worse, and was about to give up hope when I heard of your system," writes Glen Rittiger. "After several treatments I could walk without crutches. Later I threw them away. My friends were amazed, as physicians and I never would be able to walk again."

15 YEARS' HAY FEVER MISERY

—then Miraculous Recovery

"I suffered for 15 years with hay fever which later developed into asthma," says Helen Harley. "Two specialists gave me up, reminding me that medical men had never found a cure for hay fever. When I was ready to abandon all hope, I heard of your wonderful system. That summer I never missed a day's work and all my friends remarked at my remarkable recovery after 15 long years of the worst case of hay fever ever known in our city."

Dear MR. CLASS

As a physician I am most technically sold on this system of caring for the various ailments. Ninety-five per cent of the diseases of humanity have been safely relieved or cured from the poisons created by overeating and poor circulation. The remedy can be reached through the skin without the use of drugs, and effected by the body's purifying power of your method. Where is eliminated from the entire body the poisons living poisons and ailments are relieved from their source.

Yours truly,
Glen Rittiger
(Sister, Dr. F. J. Rittiger, Dayton, Ohio)

After suffering for years with hay fever and nine others as a result of it, I was persuaded by a friend to try the John F. Class Health System. I did so and found great relief and now I am enjoying perfect health, thanks to the John F. Class System.

I cannot praise the treatments too highly. I have been a sufferer for years from hay fever and I am cured as I have been.

Blaine Says He Will Vote For Roosevelt

Candidate for Senate Hits Hoover in Opening Campaign Speech

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—If Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt "shows the stuff out of which presidents should be made" during the campaign, he will not hesitate to vote for him, Senator John J. Blaine declared here today in his opening address of his campaign for re-election.

Senator Blaine declared that events of the last four years have demonstrated to him that he made no mistake when he opposed Hoover in 1928 and emphasized that he would not support him now.

"As a progressive republican I follow the youth of Lincoln republicanism," Senator Blaine said. "I shall not pollute the doctrine of republicanism as proclaimed and practiced by the men who gave expression to the ideals of Lincoln republicanism when the republican party was formed."

"That there may be no mistake about my position I announce at the outset of this campaign that I shall not support Mr. Hoover for president. I decline to be swayed through expediency."

"Hence I will be equally frank respecting the candidacy of Mr. Roosevelt."

"If Mr. Roosevelt gives proof during the national campaign that he will not deliver us into the hands of foreign entanglements and alliances and exhibits the courage and independence so necessary in these times on the part of the president of the United States, and shows the stuff out of which presidents should be made and will not corrupt or misapply the democracy of Jefferson, then he will attain a leadership worthy to be placed at the head of our national government, and in which case I shall not hesitate to do my part as a citizen in casting my vote for him at the election in November."

Don't Need Suggestions

"I open my campaign as a candidate for United States senator with entire confidence that the people of Wisconsin are quite capable of selecting their candidates for public office without any suggestion from Mr. Hoover or the White House."

"I shall adhere to the policy that I laid down for myself many years ago and limit my discussions to the record of men and the roll call on men and measures. I shall talk to the people of my state with perfect frankness and candor. My purpose will be to unfold the truth and not to hide it. There will be no straddling on issues."

"The progressive republican candidates have all served the public faithfully to their promises and loyal to the common good. Under the administration of Gov. Phil La Follette the record proves that state taxes have been reduced on the home, the farm and other real estate. State taxes have been reduced for those least able to pay."

Honick Food Market Opens for Business

Damage Reported From Wind Storm

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The Honick Food market, 412 N. Water-st., opened for business this morning. The building, recently constructed, is of stone. Three opening days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, have been planned. The proprietor is Edward Honick.

Damage reported from a wind storm that hit the city last night. Trees were torn down, gardens flattened around New London.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—An evening wind which came up late Tuesday accompanied by heavy rain, created considerable damage in the residence section on the north side of the city. While the south side saw no damage, the flurry preceding the rain sped in an almost straight line down Lincoln-st., where it smashed a large plate glass window in the residence of Gerald Dent, tore up dahlias and onions in his garden and mowed down a prized catalpa tree on the lawn of William Sacer. By a peculiar coincidence the Dent baby, aged two, playing with his train on the living room floor, was unhurt when portions of the heavy glass fell in his lap.

The wind tore down a sign in front of the Milo Smith radio shop on N. Water-st. and broke off branches, demoralizing light and telephone lines for an interval. All this time the lights on the south side burned brightly and there was little effect of the wind.

On Wednesday night the third storm of the week broke off a huge elm tree at the curb of the residence of Dr. Edward Lyon, W. Spring-st. The tree fell across the street, blocking it to traffic.

Shiocton Melody Makers Meet for Picnic Social

Miss Gladys Krolow of Black Creek has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alice Felsner for a few days. # Waupaca Council Rules Against Street Stands

Legion Auxiliary Has Meeting at Brilliance

Special to Post-Crescent
Waupaca—Two petitions were before the council last week at its regular session, one from Angelus Drives of the Waupaca County Kitchen and one from Clifford Stoll of the Waupaca News Dept. both asking permission to erect stands on Fulton-st. next to the court house property. Both petitions were denied and the matter of stands was turned over to the board of public works.

As a result the board of public works issued an order and instructed the police force to enforce it beginning July 22 forbidding the operation of any popcorn stand, peanut wagon or any other stand on the sidewalks or streets of the city.

This means that business places operating such stands in front of their places of business will have to discontinue the practice and take them off the street.

The council also refused E. L. Moore of Almond the right to erect a lunch room on E. Fulton-st. A petition asking that the Bethany Children's Home of this city, hold a tag day was granted.

A severe wind and electrical wind storm visited this city Monday afternoon. A number of trees were blown down and the barn on the John Knudson place at Parfreyville was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

The Brewster cottage at the Chan o' Lakes also struck by lightning was destroyed by fire. At about eleven o'clock another storm visited the city at which time the barn on the Wilbur Hobson farm in town of Lind was struck and burned to the ground.

The barn contained about 40 tons of hay. He also lost the side of his herd one calf which were in the barn. The $4,000 loss is partially covered by insurance.

Discuss Work for Men on Aid List

Poor Committee to Clean Up and Level High School Grounds

New London—Appointment of committees of the common council to supervise a special city work which is to be done by the men receiving city aid was discussed Wednesday evening. The poor committee, working in conjunction with the board of education, has been given authority to clean up and level the new high school grounds. The finance committee will fix up a temporary base ball field, see to the moving of the three barracks and also level off the present athletic park. Cleaning of the river banks, removing old piling, taking care of the camp site, bathing beach and approaches to the city will be placed under supervision of the public property committee.

The board of public works committee will take care of leveling all streets and alleys, placing gutters, evening curb lines and repair sidewalks.

It was brought out at the meeting that the poor committee has in view a wood lot made up of soft maple, ash and hickory. They were told to use their own discretion in buying this lot. It also has been decided not to move the boy scout barracks on the camp site. Instead it will be placed in one corner of the athletic field and will serve as a place for skaters in the winter time. The work will begin at once, some already having been started. One crew already is at work at the bathing beach and another is at work leveling and clearing the high school grounds.

Gettelman Scores Phil's Program

State Senator Attacks Measure Increasing Gasoline Tax

New London—Attacking all politics which do not call for the reconciliation of matters pertaining to the laborer and the small home owner, and blaming Gov. Philip La Follette for the promises he made during his candidacy for office, which the speaker affirmed he did not keep, could not keep and knew it, State Senator Ben Gettelman spoke to a large assemblage at Memorial park on N. Water-st. last evening.

Mr. Gettelman reminded his listeners that Gov. La Follette had attacked the policies of the former governor, Walter Kohler, turning his sentences to belittle the meanings of Mr. Kohler. This applied, the speaker said, to the proposed tax on chain stores and banks, which Mr. Kohler said would be unconstitutional. While Gov. Kohler's reason for vetoing the proposed bill was technical the speaker said, Philip La Follette turned the matter about so that it worked against Gov. Kohler in his candidacy for reelection.

"They pulled a flying one, continued the speaker, "when they passed the bill to increase gasoline tax. This was to help the unemployed it was said, and the money was used to build these wonderful monuments to the memory of Gov. La Follette."

"Perhaps they came in here and established an employment bureau promising work to the unemployed. How many men from your city worked there on the overhead bridge which benefits no one but the railroads? Wisconsin is the only state which has stood out in consideration to the railroads at the cost of the general public."

Mediterranean in Mussolini Grip

Italo-Turk Pact Extends
Fascist Influence
To Asia

Rome —(22)—The new friendship and trade treaty between Italy and Turkey, concluded just 20 years after the war in which Turkey lost Libya, is considered certain to have great effect upon the balance of power in the eastern Mediterranean, formerly a "bad spot" in international politics.

The pact, signed here by Mussolini, and Ismet Pasha, Turkish premier, complements Italo-Greek and Greek-Turkish treaties, similar in scope.

Furthermore Ismet Pasha came to Rome fresh from his successful negotiations in Moscow for a like pact. This led French newspapers to conclude that Italy intended to use Turkey as a go-between to Russia, but the interpretation here is that Italy, Russia and Turkey are "getting together," especially in a commercial way.

Fascist money running soviet machines on Kemalists soil to produce cotton, silk and coal for the benefit of all three regimes may be one of the political anomalies of this economic rapprochement.

Turkey is not only an Asiatic and Mediterranean country but also a Balkan one. The treaty therefore will assure Italo-Turkish collaboration in the Balkans, where Italy's political interest is acute.

A further and equally important point is that of the eastern mandates and Mussulman development. Under Kemal Pasha Turkey sprang up from the bed of "the sick man of Europe." The other Mussulman states would like to do the same.

Iraq will soon have independence, and Syria, the French mandate, and Palestine and Trans-Jordan, British wards, probably will have it eventually. Italy is warmly sympathetic with these aspirations.

French newspapers say Italy wants profit for herself at the expense of Turkey. But spokesmen here aver that Italy wants a strong Turkey with whom she can work in maintaining the peace of the eastern Mediterranean.

Springfield, Ill. — It was his idea of community pride that led him astray, Postmaster William L. Beebe of Manito said as he pleaded guilty to embezzling $1,200. ## Hardaway Y. Browning Tells How Cuticura Healed Eczema.

"Eczema broke out on me in pimples and itched and burned very badly. It was on my face and head and then spread to my limbs. The irritation was awful, and my clothing made it worse. I tried different remedies that stopped it for a while, but it would come back again as bad as ever. I had the eczema for about four months before I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in about three months I was completely healed." (Signed) Hardaway Y. Browning, 2127 N. The Faithful Cheat

BY RUBY M. AYRES

SYNOPSIS: Sondra Kent, at the theater with her sister and brother-in-law, watches the two men who figure most importantly in her life. She is in love with Mark Merriman, but is determined not to marry him since he has neither money nor hopeful future. Mark loves her, as does John Anderson. But Anderson is bound to an unhappy marriage and has never admitted that he feels more than friendship for Sondra. Sondra's attitude toward marriage is strongly influenced by the advice her father gave her long ago, to marry for money and not for love. His further statement, that Sondra and her sister Flora were good looking but could not make themselves useful, Sondra knows is true. Flora has married a rich man, Lomax, who bores and annoys Flora. As the three go out of the theater, Sondra finds that John Anderson is beside her.

Chapter 2
"NOW FOR PURGATORY"
"ARE you going to the Gaspers?" Anderson asked. Sondra met his eyes unsmilingly.

"I suppose so," she said. "We shall meet there, then." He turned away and joined the woman who had sat by his side in the theater; she had only bowed frigidly to Sondra, and the girl laughed as she looked after her. "How that woman hates me," she said.

"What woman?" Flora asked. "John Anderson's sister." "Most women are cats," Flora said briefly.

They drew a little to one side, away from the crowd while Lomax fought his way to the cloakroom. Sondra's eyes were eagerly searching for Mark Merriman. Would he come and speak to her? As far as she could see he had been alone in the theater.

Presently she saw him making his way to her side.

"How are you?" He did not take her hand; he just looked at her steadily with the only eyes that had ever made her heart turn over, ever made her so happy that she felt she could cry.

Her father had always said that love was merely an hysterical kind of illness.

"I'm very well, thanks," she said, and she met his eyes steadily, betraying nothing of what she felt.

"Fine show, isn't it?" he asked with enthusiasm.

"Ought to run for a couple of years," he said. He was always pleased with life and everything it offered him in the way of enjoyment.

"Yes, I should think it ought," Sondra agreed.

"Has your sister gone?" "No; she's talking to some people over there. We're waiting for Ben--and then we're going on to the Gaspers."

"I see." His eyes were a little wistful now. "Well, I'll say good night."

"Good night." She saw him turn up the collar of his coat before he stepped out into the street, where drizzling rain fell steadily.

John and his sister had driven away in John's big limousine, but Sondra knew that in all probability Mark would walk home or climb on to a bus at the corner.

Flora gumbled all the way to the Gaspers.

"Did you see that dreadful Mrs. Singer making eyes at young Bathurst as usual? What the men see in that woman passes my comprehension. And the appalling cloak she was wearing! Where in the world does she buy her clothes?"

"And now I suppose we've got to be bored for another couple of hours," Flora went on. "The Gaspers shows are always deadly, in my opinion. Why people want to entertain at all if they can't do it decently I never can understand."

She sighed and glanced at her sister, scrutinizing the packed house through her lorgnette, the picture of complacent prosperity and selfishness.

Years ago their father, an impetuous optimistic Irishman, had said with a chuckle:

"I don't know what's to become of you two girls if you can't wing some millionaire for a husband. You're both good looking, but that's all; if it ever came to making your selves useful, God help you both!"

Well, Flora had successfully winged her husband, for if Ben Lomax was not quite a millionaire he was rich enough to be entirely generous with his wife and abominably mean with everyone else.

Sondra knew that she herself was only allowed to live with them because of Flora's intervention, and that they would both welcome a day that saw her safely and securely married.

She thought of her father tonight with a queer pang.

She had disapproved of him, and yet there had been something about him that one could not help loving. He had been his own worst enemy. He had once had more than his share of good fortune and had thrown it carelessly away with both generous hands, dying with a dollar in his pocket and a pile of I. O. U.'s in his desk--an optimist to the end.

"You'll be all right," were almost his last words to her. "With that face of yours you could marry any man you chose--only take care you choose one with money."

Sondra had reminded him that men with money were often very unlovable people.

The old man had been scornful. "What's love got to do with it?" he demanded. "Marriage kills love. Love's all right, but you want to keep it in its place."

It amused Sondra to realize how literally she was doing so, intending to take his advice.

She loved Mark Merriman, but she had no more intention of ever marrying him than she had of jumping off Brooklyn bridge.

"The result would be suicide either way," she told herself.

So tonight she was trying to make up her mind to ask Anderson to send him to the Congo.

She knew he would do it for her. John Anderson was a dear, he was like something warm and secure in her life; if he had been free she would undoubtedly have married him, considering that gratitude and affection were a good enough basis whereupon to build a future if love could not be included in the bargain.

The play came to an uproarious end, and Flora leaned over and poked her husband.

"Wake up--for heaven's sake," she said impatiently.

Lomax came to himself with a tremendous yawn, rumpiling his thin, fast graying hair, and stretching his big arms inelegantly.

For a moment he stared at the stage with blinking eyes, then mechanically he began to clap.

"Good, very good--" he said vaguely, regardless of the fact that he had heard no more than the opening chorus.

"Put your tie straight and let's get out before the crowd," his wife said tartly and led the way out of the box.

Sondra followed her, listlessly dragging her wrap about her shoulders.

She was so tired of everything; glancing at her sister's face she wondered if Flora ever felt the same.

"And looking," their father had called them.

Yes, that was true enough she supposed, catching sight of their two reflections in a long mirror. They were very much alike, except that Flora was darker, harder looking somehow. There was something about the almost insolent beauty of her face that looked as if she had met life squarely and got the better of it to her own tragic detriment. Her laugh had an artificial note in it, and her voice a sharper edge than before she was married, and yet--Ben Lomax adored her as Sondra knew well, and only shut his eyes to her impatience and indifference because he was mortally afraid that if he ever dared to mention it, Flora would walk out of his life.

A block in the crowd brought them to a momentary standstill and Sondra looked at her own reflection.

She was smaller than Flora--slighter, with blue eyes instead of brown, fair hair that fell naturally into long loose waves, and a mouth carved in rather discontented lines. The crowd parted a little and moved on, and Sondra found John Anderson beside her.

Legion Juniors Down Rapids in Second Regional Victory

Can Enter State Title Race by Beating Fondy

Meet Down Lake Team Friday Afternoon; Copied Last Week

WISCONSIN RAPIDS—Knocking the count in the sixth with three runs and then coming from behind in the eighth with two runs, the Appleton Legion team eliminated Wisconsin Rapids from further regional competition here Wednesday afternoon 5 to 4.

The defeat eliminated the Rapids from regional play and permits Appleton to meet Fond du Lac Friday at Fondy for the region four title.

The regional hosts permit a team to play for the state title.

Stellar pitching by Frederick and wonderful fielding on the part of the Appleton boys accounted for the victory. The Appleton runs started coming after C. Burton was on first on an error, but was replaced by F. Burton because of an injury. Van Ryn singled and an error by the Rapids pitcher put Krause on base. Krause struck out and Calmes singled to score the run.

The Rapids broke the tie with Berard's run after three stolen bases in the last of the sixth. In the eighth Krause singled. Horn struck out, Calmes singled and the two runners came home on F. Burton's single.

The Appleton boys stopped an attack when they caught Finup at third after he had doubled as the first man up in the eighth and then caught Berard sealing second. The two runners came home on F. Burton's single. The game featured a home run with one on by Weinbauer, of the Rapids, in the second inning.

Yank, French Cup Teams Meet Friday

Captains Hold Up Entry Lists; Americans are Slight Favorites

Paris (AP)—All the long months of preparation reach their climax tomorrow when tennis stars of the United States and France meet in the opening singles matches of the 1932 Davis cup challenge round.

Not before then will it be known whether the four French stars, Henri Cochet, Jean Borotra, Jacques Brugnon and Christian Bousquet will be able to meet the challenge of the youthful Americans and keep the trophy or whether the rather shaky showing the United States team made in the interzone final against Germany will carry over into the challenge round.

In the prevailing state of uncertainty, not even the lineups of the two teams was revealed until the last moment. The singles draw was held at noon today and the French team today is headed by Bernard S. P. Penrice, captain of the American team, held off until it was almost time to toss the names into the hat before he would decide whether Frank Shields, the big New Yorker who lost both his matches against Germany, should be relieved of his singles assignment. Announcement of the French choice also was held up.

The challenge program will be continued Saturday with the doubles match in which the experienced American pair, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn are favored over whatever combination France may choose. The concluding singles matches will be played Sunday.

All Stars Workout For Game With Markets

Providing there isn't another cloudburst or something, Appleton All Stars will work out Thursday evening at First ward diamond. The squad of players numbers about 20 softballers, according to Coach Eddie Starnard. Drills tonight will be for the game with the Kenosha Fish Markets to be staged here Sunday morning. The game originally was scheduled for July 4 but postponed the day previous because of the bad weather that weakened.

Old Gray Mare, She Ain't What She Used To Be, She's Better

Chicago (AP)—Take it from a flock of Arlington park railbirds, that old gray mare, Fred Avon, "ain't what she used to be."

She's even better. Sporting the silks of Sylvester W. Labrot of Annapolis and jugging total weight of 122 pounds, she conquered several of the speediest fillies of America at Arlington park yesterday to win the $10,975 matron handicap by the handy margin of a length and a half. Although in trouble during the back stretch run, she reeled the mile distance in 1:37.2-5 and could have done better if necessary.

TONIGHT'S GAME
Co. D. vs. Pure Milks.

Eddie Starnard's American Legion softball team in the National league closed the season last night with a thrilling duel with the Printers. The Veterans had a little hard luck, however and bowed by a count of 3 and 2.

The victory puts the Printers up in a tie with Co. D. for second place honors, each having won six games and lost four. The Legion is dropped down the standings into fifth place with a .333 average for the season.

Graef hurried for the veterans and was in front until the late stages of the game when the Printers started a rally that netted a win. Jacobson hurried for the Printers.

Tonight Co. D. will play the Pure Milk team. The Guards forfeited a game Tuesday by non appearance, but promise they'll be on hand tonight.

2 Events on State Elk Golf Program

Medal Play Tournament And Five Man Team Match Being Planned

A medal play handicap tourney and a five man team event will feature the golf program for the annual convention of Wisconsin Elks to be held in Appleton, Aug. 25, 26, 27, according to plans of Heber H. Pelkey, chairman of the golf committee. The golf program is scheduled for Aug. 26.

In previous years the Elk golf meet has been a rather drab affair and efforts will be made this year to make it one of the outstanding events of the convention.

The 18 hole medal play tournament will permit golfers to use their regular club handicaps, Mr. Pelkey said.

The team match is the first ever tried by the Elks. Five men will make up each lodge's team and all must be amateurs. Their aggregate gross scores will determine winner of a cup for the year. Members of the winning team also will receive awards. There will be 10 low gross and 15 low net and goodfellow prizes for other tourney players.

Women Golfers Begin Second Round of Play

Sheboygan (AP)—Four players from Milwaukee, three from Madison, and one from Stoughton took off this morning at the Pine Hills course in the second round of the women's golf tournament after a strenuous first round which eliminated three potential champions.

Miss Jane Cannon, Milwaukee, was an outstanding favorite to regain the title she has held twice, following the elimination yesterday of Miss Marie Reimer, Milwaukee; Miss Helen Riddell, Sheboygan, northeastern champion; and Miss Susan Nash, Wisconsin Rapids.

Today's pairings: Miss Cannon, Milwaukee, vs. Mrs. Oscar Smith, Milwaukee; Miss Helen Riddell, Sheboygan, vs. Mrs. P. A. Parker, Milwaukee; Miss Lee Stutz, Madison, vs. Mrs. William Findlay, Jr., Milwaukee.

No Reports on Use of "Bean Ball" in A. L.

Chicago (AP)—Apparently, the "bean ball" is a "has been" in the American league.

Since Will Harridge, president of the circuit, ordered all "bean ball" pitchers suspended on and after July 11, not one complaint has come to his office. Before his order protests were numerous.

Detroit Tigers Lose Two Games To Philadelphia

Pirates Win 2 Last Minute Decisions from New York Giants

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

CONSIDER the plight of the Detroit Tigers. After July 4, the traditional turning point of the season, the Tigers were in second place, a good distance behind the league leading New York Yankees and with a very slim margin over a couple of rivals but still to all appearances the best team in the western section of the league. Today they are fifth, and Cleveland's Indians have usurped their place as the outstanding western club.

Since July fourth Detroit lost 13 of 22 games in a disastrous road tour and yesterday they took it on the chin twice as they opened their home stand against the Athletics.

The A's had little or no trouble pounding Whitehill, Goldstein and Wyatt for 17 hits and a 13 to 8 victory in the opener, then came back behind Rube Walcott to take the second, 4 to 0, despite some excellent pitching by Buck Marrow, Tiger rookie.

Cleveland held its virtual tie with the Athletics and reduced the New York Yankees margin to seven games by taking a double bill from the league leaders, 2 to 1 and 12 to 10.

Jolley Gets 2 Homers
Smead Jolley of Boston turned in a neat hitting feat of a homer, two doubles, a single and a walk in five visits to the plate as he led the Sox to a 15 to 5 victory over his old Chicago teammates. Washington squared the series with the St. Louis Browns, winning the second game 9-3 as Weaver and Marberry combined to give the Browns only three hits.

In the National league, the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates stole the show by winning two last minute decisions from the New York Giants 9 to 8 and 4 to 2 and increasing their margin over Chicago to five games.

Chicago could get no better than an even break in a twin bill with Boston, losing a 2 to 1 decision to young Bob Brown but winning the second battle with some heavy stickwork against Fred Frankhouse.

Brooklyn made it three straight over the St. Louis Cardinals, 3 to 4, as old Jack Quinn won his second victory in two days by pitching the last ball in the first half of the ninth and watching the Dodgers score the winning tally on Mickey Finn's single in the last half. Cincinnati's Reds turned back the Phillies 4 to 3 as Larry Benton stopped a ninth inning rally after giving only four hits in the first eight frames.

Helen Jacobs Survives At Seabright Tourney

Seabright, N. J.—Three players who came through by the upset route were lined up as the "opposites" today with the idea of supplying a fourth upset in the women's division of the annual Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket club invitation tennis tournament and depriving Helen Jacobs of a title the experts have just about awarded her.

Miss Jacobs was the only survivor of the list of favorites while Carlisle Hilebeck of Los Angeles, Virginia Hilebeck of Philadelphia and Josephine Cruikshank of Santa Ana, Cal., completed the semi-final brackets. Miss Hilebeck drew the job of attempting to stop Miss Jacobs in today's semi-finals.

Yesterday's matches in the quarter finals of the men's singles went more according to form as Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., Sidney B. Wood, Jr., of New York, Lester Stoen of Los Angeles and Manuel Alonso of New York were the winners.

Lawrence Gridders Get Ready for Fall Campaign

ALTHOUGH the weather probably has most people thinking in terms of anything except football, members of the Lawrence college grid squad scattered about the state are doing more than a few things to get themselves into condition for the fall season's sport.

Those who are around Appleton are being watched over by Coach Percy Clapp who also is watching over the daughter who arrived shortly before school closed this spring. Which takes the most of his time the mentor has not stated, but he has the faculty for getting around quite well and paying much attention to detail.

The Lawrence college grid season will open on Sept. 15 when the Vikes hold their first drill on George A. Whiting athletic field. The opening is none too soon either, for on Sept. 24, the team invades

Marquette stadium for its annual battle with the Hilltops.

Holtermann at Point
Indications are that most of the Vikes hurried exams and will be back in school in the fall. One man who will be missed, however, is Gordon Holtermann, Appleton, who on July 1 started his career at West Point military academy and who is now learning to do right face and about face and squads right and left in the very best West Point manner.

Holtermann would have made a great addition to the Vikings this year. He was the outstanding kicker on the team, a general all around player and capable of doing a lot of thinking when carrying the ball or directing his mates.

But to get at the boys who will remain in Appleton, the Vikes, the Vikes captain this fall, is reported to be doing ditches in Iowa. Bernie Barnes has a playground job at Stoughton; Chuck Gebhardt is working for a Ford Co. Lac milk company; Bud Roemer is swinging a golf club for Lawrence college and Cliff Collins is working with a construction crew in Milwaukee. All are veterans of last year's team.

Among the freshmen, Edward Rober is working on a construction project at Pelican Lake. John Vogel has a playground job at Milwaukee and Hans Harwig is trimming trees around Wauwatosa. Gordon Simons and Ted Kramer are getting in condition doing road work near Milwaukee. Gil Lemke and George Walker both found jobs in Appleton, the former jerking sodas at a local drug store, the latter working in an Appleton funeral home.

Big Hank Nagel, a center, has a job at West Bend and Eddie Pfefferle of Appleton is working for his pop at a local bakery. Tom Connor is a runner at Chippewa Falls.

Has Heard From Boys
Coach Clapp has heard from most of the men regularly and while it may be a bit too early to tell what the fall holds for them in the way of continuing their education, the Vike mentor is highly optimistic.

Competition in state football circles again promises to be rather tough. Ripon, with a veteran backfield will be feared by all teams. The Clinton line will be a little lighter than last year, it is said, and not so experienced. Glenn Thistlethwaite must build almost a new squad at Carroll, but he has good material. Bob Jagard's aggregation at Beloit is the big puzzle with no rumors about its strength reaching this section of the state.

Three other stars of yesterday joined Roddey in defeat. Ned Allis, ten times state champion, bowed to Gordon Kummer, Milwaukee. Eddie Lehman of Waterloo, runner up last year, was beaten by Bruce Rogers of Madison. 4 and 3. Dick Frost, the Kenosha country club star, was upset by Gus Mader, Milwaukee, 1 and 0.

Out of these and other upsets came new leaders in the company of state amateurs. Among the new names was that of Lloyd Weber, 20, of Racine, who beat John Sheahan of Delafield in 9 holes and then came back to eliminate Walter Stock of Madison, 2 and 1.

Athletic Group Will Decide on Narmi Today

Los Angeles (AP)—The final trial of Paavo Nurmi, an attempt to receive money for a German barnstorming trip last year in excess of his expense allowances today came as a climax to the most widely debated topic in connection with the Olympic games.

The executive council of the international amateur athletic federation, which suspended Nurmi last April despite the clean bill given the famous runner by Finland's A. A. prepared to reconsider the case and file its recommendations to the full congress of the A. A. P. tomorrow.

It was a foregone conclusion the council would recommend Nurmi's disbarment from the Olympics and seek adoption of new rules giving it authority to deal with such cases.

Moose Humble Eagles In Fraternal League

Helped along by three hits by Earl Bates and a home run by Brock, the Moose softball team of the fraternal league won another game last evening when it trounced the Eagles by a score of 12 and 8.

The Moose got 12 hits and the Eagles 10. The former had one error and the latter two. Horn and Seely worked for the winners and Feavel and Nissen for the losers. Feavel and Rammer were the Eagle bats.

Wiater, Phagan Win from German Amateur Boxers

Green Bay Boy Cops Decision, Negro Scores Knockout in First

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Blonde Heinrich Kahlhaas, bred in Muenster, occupied a place among German's finest heroes today.

The Teuton Olympic boxing team lost four of the first seven matches against midwest amateurs fighting for Chicago in Soldier field last night. Then in the heavyweight class, last to be decided, Kahlhaas overpowered Duffy Duvach, a sailor from the Great Lakes naval training station, and earned a draw for his country over the evening's route.

Kahlhaas rushed Duvach from the first bell, floored him twice in the second round and forced referee Dave Barry to stop the slaughter in the second.

His victory kept Germany's state in international matches clear of defeat. Its men were part of the best in Europe. They left today for Los Angeles to compete in the Olympics.

The invaders started out to make a show of the defenders, winning the first three matches on points with Werner Spangnauer, Hans Ziegler and Josef Schlenker of Munich.

Henry Rottler, Melrose, N. H., middleweight, and Adolf Winter of Green Bay, the midwest light heavyweight, then outpointed their rivals. The home team took the edge when Johnny Phagan, Chicago, Negro welterweight, knocked out Eric Campe, a Berlin policeman, in the first round of their bout.

A crowd of 45,000, largest ever to witness amateur fights in America, watched the spectacle staged by the Chicago Tribune.

Pro Golfers Will Play Here Tuesday

Decide State Championship, Qualify for National P. G. A. Meet

The annual meeting and tournament of the state Professional Golfers association will be held at the des Morts golf club, Monday and Tuesday, August 1 and 2, it was announced today.

Golfers will arrive here late Monday afternoon and hold their annual meeting Monday evening. The next morning they will start play in their annual tournament which also will be the qualifying round for the national P. G. A. tournament to be held at Minneapolis later in the season.

Last year George Vienne, Burdette des Morts pro, and Francis Galtier, Milwaukee, were low scorers and represented the state at the P. G. A. About 20 pros are expected.

STATE OPEN AT LAWSONIA

Waukesha (AP)—The annual state open tournament will be held at the Lawsonia Country club, Green Lake, on Aug. 28, 29 and 30, the dates originally set at the annual Wisconsin State Golf association meeting early in June.

This was decided at a meeting of the executive committee last night. It was announced today by John S. John, secretary, with the National P. G. A. tourney in St. Paul, the state pro sought a change in dates in order to permit two representatives to play in both national and state meets. The national pro championship gets under way on the Keller course, St. Paul, on Aug. 30, the final day of the state open.

B. D. M. Members Will Play Sheboygan Club

The first inter club golf match for Burdette des Morts golfers will be held here Tuesday, Aug. 2 at which time members of Pine Hills club, Sheboygan, will invade the local course. Last year the championship golfers here and Burdette des Morts members played a return match at Sheboygan.

Announcement of the proposed match was made yesterday and with it a plea for Burdette des Morts members to "sign up." Despite the fact the meet is less than a week away golfers have not shown much interest in the tournament.

Service Bakers Humble Hub Sport Shop, 8 to 5

The Service Bakery softball team traveled over to Milwaukee again, defeated the Hub Sport Shop 8-5 for the twenty-third time and their tenth straight victory. Greene, Baker pitcher, allowed seven scattered hits and did not give his mates when they came to bat. He saved runs, Harts, 5 to 0, and 15 runs, five of them scored by Horn, Borrell, L. Walker and S. De Young. Thursday night the Bakers will meet the Young Men's League at the Fourth ward grounds at 8:45.

the same in the hope that the management charges in such cases and rely on the part of the industrial unionism in workmen's compensation cases may thus be effected and the management will be obliged to make to them a full and impartial payment in such cases of the workmen's compensation cases.

Shattered Confidence

"We further declare that the decline in workmen's compensation cases has greatly shattered the confidence of the worker in the impartiality and fairness of the industrial commission.

"The worker resolved to come to this resolution because he was told by Governor Lathrop, the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, the Industrial Commission and to Governor Philip La Follette."

Congressman George J. Schneider, who attended the meeting, stated that he has always been in favor of having a public prosecutor help the injured employees present their cases to the industrial commission, whereas the committee always maintained that the workers need not need an attorney to bring their case.

It was the belief of Congressman Schneider that without a public prosecutor or attorney to help the worker's side of the case that if the workman could not properly present his case, the committee may not have the time or inclination to carry on the exhaustive study of the particular case stated.

PILES

Ended Without Cutting or Salves

If you think a surgical operation is the only way to get rid of itching, bleeding or protruding Piles, it's because you haven't heard of the harmless internal medicine discovered by a prominent western physician.

After years of study, Dr. J. S. Leonard found the cause of Piles to be internal congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins dilated—the bowel walls weak; the parts almost dead. Right away the doctor set to work to find a real internal remedy. He succeeded, and after prescribing it for 1000 patients, with success in over 900 cases, he named his prescription HEM-ROID.

The doctor wants every Pile sufferer to benefit by his discovery, and so there will be no doubting or delay. Schintz Bros. and druggists everywhere are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end Piles in 30 days.

So why waste time on external treatments or think of an operation when HEM-ROID tablets are guaranteed—Adv.

Rye Is Important Crop in County

Expert Points to Many Uses Which "Old
Stand-by" Serves

Rye, that old stand-by crop that serves many different purposes, is bidding for an important place in Outagamie-co farming, according to Gus Sell, county agent.

"Whether it is a long pasture season that is wanted or a green manure crop that is needed or a field that must be kept from washing after the crops are off—seed rye. Our old faithful rye crop fits in the picture better than any other crop because seed is cheap, is not sensitive to soil conditions, is hardy, and lives over winters well, makes a good fall pasture and is our earliest emergency spring pasture."

This is the recommendation which George M. Briggs gives to this old familiar crop.

Regarding the time and method of seeding rye, Briggs makes the following suggestion: "Rye can be seeded in between rows of corn before or after corn is put in the silo, can be seeded on old stubble fields or in any old meadow that is worked up well. If seeded in late July or early August, at the rate of five to eight pecks of seed to the acre, it makes an excellent fall and spring pasture saving barn feeds at both ends of the season. September and October seedings provide the best late April and May pastures."

If rye is to be grown for the grain it produces, the new white pedigree rye recently developed at the Wisconsin experiment station will give the best yield and the best quality of grain. Over 100,000 bushels of this variety will be harvested from fields now growing in Wisconsin and can be obtained for use in this country. For pasture and green manure crop purposes, any Wisconsin rye will do.

Rotary Club Holds Its Weekly Meeting

Painting Progresses At Park Public School

Kaukauna — Painting and decorating of the interior of Park public school is progressing rapidly under direction of George Birkenmeyer. ## Urge Farmers to Use Care in Handling Eggs

Careful gathering and preparation of eggs for market will pay dividends, according to advice from John B. Hayes, poultry expert with the state department of agriculture, in a bulletin issued to Gus Sell, county agent, this week. Mr. Hayes points out that an egg when fresh laid is best in quality. The first step in assuring egg quality to the consumer consists in frequent collections from the laying house in hot weather. Incubation can be as easily started in a hot poultry house as in an incubator.

Eggs should be collected regularly in hot weather. Broody hens should be collected and broken up every day. Eggs should be thoroughly cooled before packing and this can be done by placing them on an old screen door. Next day these eggs should be packed and that day's collection placed on the screen. The eggs should be protected from the sun when being taken to market. They should be marketed at regular and frequent intervals.
